CHARLESTON CONVENTION.

THE MUSTERING OF THE CLANS.

CHANCES AND ASPECTS OF THE CONTEST.

DOUGLAS STOCK AT A DECLINE.

How the Convention will be Organized.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CHARLESTON, Sunday, April 22—Ther. 95°.

The city is thronged with delegates and strangers, though the immense rush of roughs has been kept away by the cry of high rates. The hotels are filled to their utmost capacity, and their various passages resemble hives lined with busy bees.

By letter a more literal description of men and things has been sent, and I will confine this dispatch to a report of the talk about Committee Rooms and other reliable sources of information.

The feeling for and against WOOD and his delegation is intense. The National Committee have decided to give the tickets of admission to the other wing. Rumor says that WOOD has been reinforced by the presence of fifty fighting men from New-York, and that with them he will attempt a coup d'état at the Convention. This his friends deny. He will appeal to the Convention from the decision of the Committee, undoubtedly; but in what way, no one but FERNANDO as yet knows.

Generally all talk is DOUGLAS. Some for, others against him. His prospects, yesterday, were the best of all. The arrival of SLIDELL put cold water on the Douglas movement. SLIDELL brought and has exhibited a letter from JEFF. DAVIS to the Mississippi Delegation, withdrawing his name from the list of candidates, and advising them to withdraw from the Convention in case DOUGLAS is nominated.

The Maine, New-Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island delegates are counted on as sure for DOUGLAS.

Massachusetts, in informal caucus, went against him; subsequently they entertained the suggestion to cast a complimentary vote for DAVIS, and fall back to DOUGLAS. Expediency is their motto.

Pennsylvania went seventeen against and ten in favor of DOUGLAS.

Connecticut voted in caucus, eight for DOUGLAS, four scattering.

Wisconsin is all eager for the Douglas fray; ditto Ohio.

At a meeting of Southern delegates, an attempt was made to unite the South in a demand for the Slave Code clause. The attempt was a failure. Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana will insist upon its immediate adoption. If unsuccessful, they will in high dudgeon and martial array vamose ye ranche. Virginia and North Carolina will be content with a reaffirmation of the Cincinnati platform, but rather than have any Southern disaffection in the Convention, they will join the other States, and endeavor to form one harmonious whole on the above clause.

The publication of the Buchanan-Walker letter has upset a nice little underground arrangement in favor of the ultimate nomination of WALKER.

Mr. SEYMOUR's friends are pressing his name in influential quarters as the proper man to fill the Walker vacancy, and said SEYMOUR has a host of friends.

A general cursing is anticipated to-morrow, when we all get into the Unventilated Hall.

Gen. FLOURNOY, of Arkansas, will be the temporary Chairman, and the friends of himself and CUSHING are contesting for the berth of permanent Chairman.

WOOD's open house at St. Andrews is kept up in magnificent style. DICKINSON, ORR, DAVIS, GUTHRIE, HUNTER, and, in all probability, our next President, as yet, attract very little attention.

Mr. ORR will, probably, be President of the Convention. If he don't, it will be because he thinks it too hot, or else because he thinks his chances for the nomination are yet good. HOWARD.

From Another Correspondent.

CHARLESTON, Sunday, April 22, 1860.

The music has already begun. The city is filling up rapidly, and every fresh arrival adds to the complications of the game which is to open in earnest to-morrow. The fight over the nomination of DOUGLAS promises to be exceedingly lively, not to say bitter. The warfare against him has commenced with remarkable vigor during even the short interval that has already elapsed, and the chances of a terrific scrimmage are brightening very fast.

The New-York and Pennsylvania delegations are peculiarly inharmonious on the Douglas question. To mention the name of the Little Giant in presence of a member of either of these delegations is to wake up a prodigious rumpus, not easily quelled, for the contest grows fiercer.

The Tammany Hall delegation met yesterday, at noon, and organized by the election of DEAN RICHMOND as Chairman, with PETER CAGGER and JOHN C. SPENCER as Secretaries. Messrs. FOWLER, CROWELL, STETSON, RUSSELL, and CHURCH, were appointed a Committee to report names to fill vacancies, and will report to-morrow morning. The Tammany men rendezvous at the Mill's House, and the Wood delegation at St. Andrew's Hall. Mayor WOOD is here, as large as life, laying his wires shrewdly, and apparently caring no more for the duties of the Mayoralty at home than if he had been elected to serve in Charleston perpetually. His delegation has been refused tickets of admission to the floor of the Convention by the advice of Judge SMALLEY, Chairman of the National Committee, although the admissions were granted without question to RICHMOND's delegation. This act has called down upon the Judge the severe animadversion of many of the Southern delegates, and the Committee, I learn, have since resolved to reconsider the decision. It is probable that tickets will presently be given to the Wood men, whose stock had suddenly gone up since this little explosion.

The Pennsylvania Delegation had a meeting yesterday, at which the Douglas and Anti-Douglas factions enjoyed a refreshing but not altogether inharmonious season of conference. In point of fact, the caucus broke up in a row, the Anti-Douglas majority triumphing on every point, and driving the distressed minority into a threat to appeal to the Convention, directly upon its organization. The bigger portion of the Pennsylvania representation will probably go for BRECKINRIDGE—at least, such is the present indication.

Letters from SAM HOUSTON, ALEX. H. STEPHENS, and sundry other unambitious gentlemen, have announced their individual disgust at the idea of being nominated for the Presidency, and to-day another name is added to the list of withdrawals. Senator SLIDELL who has just arrived, announces himself as the bearer of a letter of positive declination from JEFF. DAVIS. Mr. DAVIS says he will not stand, even if asked to do so, but offers to go for any individual out of six whom he names, among whom are DICKINSON, HUNTER and GUTHRIE. He also declares that Mississippi will never support DOUGLAS, and further states that no Southern State will do so. Senator WIGFALL has partly confirmed these allegations, in a letter addressed to the Texas delegation.

The fleet of steamers chartered for the conveyance of delegates hither is arriving gradually. The Keystone State lies at one wharf, with the Pennsylvania delegation aboard; the S. R. Spalding at another, with all the folks from Boston; and the Nashville brings a considerable number of the New-York party; some of these latter, however, having scorned the slowness of a steamer, and came by rail all the way. They were rather sore and rusty when they got here, and were all ready for the little fight which happened yesterday.

From the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, Sunday, April 22.

The city is thronged with delegates, in full attendance, of nearly every State.

The New-York contesting delegations are both confident. Mr. WOOD is working with great energy, and has made considerable headway with Southern delegates, charging the Syracuse delegates with Abolitionism. The New-York fight absorbs, for the present, more interest than the Presidency.

No one seems to have the slightest opinion as to the nominee of the Southern delegations, which resist DOUGLAS, and even threaten to withdraw in case that his nomination is pressed.

Mr. HUNTER is regarded out of the question; in fact no one here seems to have any fixed and determined friends but Mr. DOUGLAS; all the rest are at sea.

Scarcely two thousand strangers are in the City and all are harmonious so far.

United States Patent Laws—Water-Heating Apparatus—Iron Buildings, &c.

At the opening of the regular meeting, last week, Mr. Fisher, Chairman of the Committee to whom was referred the subject of the proposed amendment of the United States Patent Laws, now under consideration by Congress, with the view of memorializing Congress, if thought advisable, made a report, approving a portion of the proposed amendments, and advocating a change in others. In the opinion of the Committee, the system of models should be abolished, and only such models as, in the discretion of the Commissioner, were thought advisable to have, should be retained in the Patent Office. The model system was at present a great incumbrance to the Patent Office, occupying a great amount of room which should be devoted to other purposes, tending to confuse rather than simplify the transaction of business. Models, in most instances, were entirely useless, and Mr. Fisher himself, although in this particular the Committee did not entirely agree with him, thought that the system of models should be entirely abolished. At present the models not only produced confusion inside of the Patent Office, but it resulted in confusion, annoyance and expense outside of the Patent Office, and among parties interested in patents. One source of confusion arose from the fact that in many instances the models did not agree with the specifications and drawings. The drawings and specifications might perfectly correspond in all points, and a party having only these before him, and unable to inspect the model at Washington, would take his impression as to what was really intended to be patented from these, whereas an inspection of the model might discover something entirely different.

Upon the discussion which grew out of the report, the sense of the meeting seemed to approve the English method of engraving the model and printing the specifications. As then engraved and printed they were published in book form, alphabetically arranged under their proper heads. These books constituted a reference to which every inventor, or person in any way interested in a patent could go and ascertain whether there was a prior invention in any way interfering with it, and in a great number of instances this would result in saving to the party money which he would otherwise spend, believing his patent to be good, yet ultimately to find that he had been mistaken and to suffer a cruel disappointment. The issues of the Patent Office were at present very imperfect, and utterly failed to accomplish this desirable purpose, and besides this, the books did not issue until nearly a year after the date of the latest patent described in them. The reports of the Patent Office should be properly engraved and printed, issued promptly and distributed to the principal public libraries in the United States. The report recommended that the engraving and printing be paid for by the patentees in proportion to the space occupied by their respective patent; approved the section giving power to compel the attendance of witnesses in cases of interference, and recommended a treaty with England, reciprocally protecting each other's patent.

Mr. Dibbin thought that it would be impossible to make equitable laws protecting each other's patents, because that which constituted a good patent in England did not in America. When patents were granted by both Governments upon the same basis, then laws mutually protecting each other's patents might be passed, with profit and fairness to both countries.

England now gave a patent to a man who would import a new invention or improvement, while our own Government would not.

In the debate which followed, it was stated that the policy of England in giving patent rights to parties for importing improvements arose from a desire on the part of England to improve her manufacturing interests, and, now that the occasion for such laws had passed away, England was returning to our own policy. If an inventor goes to the Patent Office in England at the same time with a stranger, and both apply for the same patent, the inventor will have the preference, and receive the patent. So, also, if the inventor apply within two years after the patent issues to such stranger, he will receive the patent.

Mr. Brown exhibited a hot-water heating apparatus, which consisted of a boiler entirely encasing the fire, and a series of pipes laying horizontally on the top of the boiler, from which the heat radiated; the water filling both the boiler and pipes. The advantage of this over steam apparatus is, that to convert water into steam requires a heat of 212 degrees; consequently, when the heat enters the room, it is at 212 degrees or over. In this apparatus, however, the water is not converted to steam, and consequently degrees of heat less than 212 degrees may be obtained.

A gentleman representing Mr. Bogardus explained his method of erecting iron buildings, and stated that the building recently taken down in Centre-street had stood for ten years, and that no injurious rust or cracks, arising from contraction and expansion of the iron by heat and cold, had affected the stability or durability of the building.

THE MYSTERIOUS MURDER.—The authorities as yet have failed to unravel the mystery connected with the murder of the unknown female found bruised, gagged and sunk at the York-street Pier in Jersey City on Saturday, the 14th inst. The Coroner's jury are to meet again this (Monday) evening, but as far as can be ascertained no additional facts will come before them, and it is feared the affair will ever remain a mystery to all except those who were directly concerned in the crime.

Many rumors are afloat amongst the populace in reference to the identification of the body, the motive for the murder, and various other matters connected with the case, but none of the rumors are shown to have any foundation. On Saturday afternoon Coroner MORRIS caused the search to be continued at the York-street pier for the other barrel of pitch, which was found to be missing at the same time with the one to which the murdered woman was anchored. Coroner GAFFNEY, who is aiding in the investigation, finally succeeded in fastening a grapnel to something, which, upon being brought to the surface of the water, was discovered to be the barrel sought after, but no traces of any wearing apparel having been attached to it were discernible. The barrel was standing on the end, and had become entirely embedded in the mud. It is possible that the garments were fastened to it with the piece of tarred cord which was caught by the drag the day previous, and broken loose from something to which it was attached. The Coroner will continue the search to-day, in hopes of recovering the clothing.

The Quickest Trip yet from New-York—Arrival of the Andrew Jackson in 89 1-4 Days!—Japanese Reception—Different Treatment of Japan and China—Decision in the Surcol Ranch Case—Items of Local and Country News, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, March 26, 1860.

The clipper Andrew Jackson came into port on Saturday afternoon in 89 days and 7 hours from New-York, thus beating the Flying Cloud, which has hitherto borne the palm for the shortest trip, by six hours. She came in firing rockets and thundering a salute from her deck to the astonished town. The Andrew Jackson is Boston-built, and not a full clipper. The voyage through she had light winds, and almost every hour has had her sky-sails set. This is her fifth trip to us. Her first she accomplished in 129 days, her second in 103, her third in 100, her fourth in 102, this last in 89¼. She was 20½ days from New-York to the Equator, 22½ thence to Cape Horn, was off the Cape 10 days, with calms for 3 days; 20 days thence to the Equator, thence 17 days to the Golden Gate.

Yesterday the schooner Ewing, formerly United States property, sailed for Mazatlan, to run hereafter in the Mexican coasting trade. As a part of her cargo she carried the machinery of a mint to be established in Northern Mexico, under the Pesquiera Government.

It has become questionable, since my last, whether or not the Japanese Embassy will visit San Francisco. The Powhatan was to leave Jeddo the same day that the Candimnarro, which brought the advance guard to our port, left Yokehama—the distance between the two points is forty miles. The Powhatan would far out-sail the corvette, but she would probably stop a week at the Sandwich Islands. The corvette's officers say there would be nothing in the fact of their being sent to this port, which would be inconsistent with the Powhatan's going direct to Acapulco, as private letters received from Jeddo say was possible. If the Powhatan does not turn up here within a week, it will be presumed that we shall not see the Embassy. In this doubt as to the arrival of a greater than the Admiral, our people have been a good deal puzzled as to the degree of enthusiasm they should exhibit over their distinguished strangers. In our ignorance we have treated them with abundant courtesy, but very little speech-making. The head of the city, two or three Judges, our militia Major-General and his staff, Gen. CLARK of the United States Army, almost unattended, and a few citizens, have boarded the corvette and tendered their hospitalities to the Admiral and his men. Carriages have always been at their command and the International Hotel at their service, the bills being quietly paid by individual citizens. The Japanese have availed themselves of these courtesies only to see some of our foundries and large manufacturing establishments, and to meet on shore our dignitaries. On Thursday last the Admiral, according to prearrangement, came on shore with the cream of his company, to return officially the visit of our Supervisors. It was a marked day; the equinoctial storm was raging. In the morning the "Souther" rioted in our streets as a whirlwind, laden with dust, and so cold that men put on their overcoats. At noon it began to rain, the water pouring down in floods. While the storm was at its height, the Japanese, clad in over-alls and shielded by delicate costly umbrellas, passed from the carriages up to the Supervisors' Room, in the City Hall. Here they were introduced to about forty heads of the people, each one's function, office and duty being explained to the Admiral by one of his Captains—a man, by the way, of Rhode Island education, and who lately translated BOWDITCH's Navigator into his native Japanese. This over, the company were taken to the crack restaurant in town, and given a good dinner. Not a Supervisor got tight, and all the speeches made were by outsiders, and that briefly. After sitting an hour and a half, the Admiral excused himself and his party, and retired. The affair would have looked insignificant in your town, but its taste was evidently appreciated by the strangers. We generally fancy these Islanders fond of display. Yet on this occasion, there was more glitter about our Brigadier-General's epaulettes than all the finery their company wore. They were all men of small stature, but tough and hearty, and well-knit. The Admiral wore a black suit, and over his trousers a pair of loose, thin drawers of satin, light-colored and daintily painted. He wore a magnificent sword and a dirk at his side. His frock was spotted with little white patches, on which were written Japanese letters,—otherwise he displayed no ornaments. Over his sandals he wore thick cow-skin gaiters, that defied the mud and wet of the streets. The other officers exhibited less finery even than their superior. The head-gear differed. Some of them wore broad-brimmed chip hats that rendered umbrellas unnecessary; others had immense fancy-colored chapeaus of indescribable and undreamed-of shapes, but all were cushioned within so that the crown did not inclose the head, but merely rested on the shaved portions of the scalp, and the elaborately dressed hair was not disturbed. The hats were made fast by two strings, one passing from behind the ears in front of the chin, the other from before the ears below the chin.

Some thinking San Franciscans have fallen a-wondering why we should treat so graciously the Japanese, who have so little comparatively to give us in the way of trade and commerce, while we are deliberately arguing the propriety of expelling the Chinese, their cousins, from our shores. There certainly are differences between the two nations. The Japanese, as here represented, are generally of less stature than the Chinese, and equally devoid of any semblance of a beard. There is an impression that they are more cleanly than the Chinese. Ten years ago, however, nothing was so fashionable for dainty men about town as to dine at the Chinese eating-houses—they were so scrupulously neat; now a Chinaman is the type of all that is unclean. So brief work civilization makes with the domestic virtues. But there are differences that the least observing do not fail to note. The Chinese shave their heads from below up to the crown. The hair is then combed back, braided with silk, and worn in a tail that just clears the ground. The Japanese shave their crowns, then gathering the circlet of black hair together, bind it with a string over the crown, and wear the surplus in a short tail lying on the top of the head like a piece of candle, pointing forward. They are abundant in the use of the pomatum, the only exceptions being the captain of the corvette, who ties his frizzled shock in a knot above and lets the tail take care of itself, and the marines and sailors, whose look as if they had been fixed after the national fashion the day that they had left Japan, and had not been disturbed by barbers or hair dressers since. Then, again, the Chinese universally wear wooden-soled shoes; the Japanese wear simple sandals, fastened by a thong brought up between the great and the second toe, and then splitting to surround the ankles. As for their superior intelligence, I confess I cannot see where their admirers discover it. The differences I have named must suffice for our making "distinguished strangers" of the one, and a degraded, inferior class of the other.

Judge McALLISTER, in the United States District Court, has confirmed a decision of the Land Commissioners in favor of the claim of VALLEJO (against the United States) to the Surcol Ranch, on which stand the cities of Benicia and Vallejo, and which involved property to the amount of $2,000,000. The decision makes good the title by which the present possessors hold, and removes a thick cloud that has hung for years over some 60,000 acres of land.

There has been some talk of an opposition to be put upon the Isthmus route to New-York. The story was, that Commodore WRIGHT (lately VANDERBILT's agent here) was fitting out the Hermann to connect at the Isthmus with the Ericsson for New-York. The Hermann is certainly being fitted up for something—for a sale, if one can be effected.

The Dr. Chase trial moves tortoise like in the Court. One night last week the box under which the officer lay for three-quarters of an hour to spy the operations of anybody who might come to tamper with the carboys, was brought into Court, and the officer ordered under, to see if he could remain there three-quarters of an hour; he won, and the prosecution gained a point. The audience was greatly amused, but nobody laughed. Justice always looks sober in our latitude.

An actor, known here as Mr. HAYWARD, a son of Mr. SHULTZ, a prominent merchant of Baltimore, died last week. He was a clever player, and enjoyed a good reputation.

Our Beef and Pork Inspection bill has passed. The friends of the measure say the appointee will make $6,000 a year out of it. The enemies say he will shave consumers out of fully $50,000 annually.

The act removing the Supreme Court from Sacramento to San Francisco has passed the Senate and sticks in the House.

Wise men say that the Bulkhead bill is dead. But there is warmth in the carcase yet, and a good stout pulse at the wrist.

Gen. ALBERT S. JOHNSTON, of the army of Utah, is expected here daily, to take the next steamer for the East.

Mining news comes in of the usual tone. Washoe draws as tightly as ever. Jacksonville still reports immense "takes," and the faith in Similkameen grows every week stronger. The weather, except when the Equinoctial storm raged for 24 hours, has been pleasant and agreeable.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

ADDITIONAL FROM CALIFORNIA AND CARSON VALLEY.

We have received the subjoined additional intelligence from California and Western Utah, brought by the Overland Pony Express, which left San Francisco on the 10th inst.:

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, April 10—P. M.

There is a better demand for domestic spirits and meat provisions. Alcohol is quotable at 80c.@85c. for extra clear. Bacon, 16c.@17c. Clear Pork, $22 50. Sugars dull; Eastern Crushed, 15⅜c.; best China, 8c.@8¾c.; Muscovado, 11c. The Coal market shows more improvement, though it continues quiet. Gold Bullion is coming in more plentifully, and money affairs are easier.

SACRAMENTO, Wednesday, April 11—9 P. M.

A test vote taken in the Assembly to-day, on the San Francisco Bulkhead and Sea Wall bill, is claimed as a victory for the bulkheaders.

A desperate affray occurred at the Capitol to-day, between Mr. BELL, a member of the House from El Dorado County, and Dr. W. H. STONE, a prominent citizen of that county, in which Dr. STONE was shot, and will probably not survive the wound. The cause of the affray was the lie given in a political discussion.

CARSON CITY, Wednesday, April 11—10 P. M.

The Winter in Western Utah has been very severe, and the Spring is cold and tardy, and is at least a month backward. There is scarcely sufficient grass to keep the cattle from starvation.

Mining operations are also retarded by the weather. Had the season been favorable not less than fifteen thousand persons would be at work in the Washoe mines, but as it is there are only about eight thousand. The mining prospects are encouraging. The original lead increases in richness as it continues to be opened, and new ores of determined value are being discovered every few days. The probabilities are that we shall have a population of four thousand on the eastern slope before the 1st of January next. Nothing can prevent this unless it be the dangerous condition in which we are placed owing to the absence of all government and legal authorities. With anarchy and bloodshed staring them in the face, the cautious and peace-loving will hardly venture this way in the mountains. Owing to the bad condition of the roads, provisions of all kinds are exceedingly high throughout this region, and prices have in consequence, gone up beyond anything ever known, even in California.

The following are the rates at which staple articles are selling to-day at Carson City: Flour, $65 ⅌ 100 lbs.; Butter and Sugar, $1 ⅌ lb.; Cheese, Coffee and Candles, $1 ⅌ lb.; Rice, Soap, Beans, Lard, Pepper, Salt, &c., 60c. ⅌ lb.; Potatoes, Beef, Hams and Bacon, 22c.@40c. ⅌ lb. Hay sold to-day for $1,000 ⅌ ton. Board is $1 50 ⅌ meal, $4 ⅌ day, and $35 ⅌ week. Housekeeping is $6@$8 ⅌ day. Lumber is $80 ⅌ thousand. Wood sells at $25 ⅌ cord. Yet such is the confidence felt in the mines that men pay these prices readily, believing the prospects will justify the same. Nor does the confidence seem misplaced, as new auriferous leads are constantly being discovered. The silver-bearing districts have spread over a distance of one hundred square miles.

Gov. Walker and the President.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF THE AFFAIR—ANOTHER LETTER FROM EX-GOV. WALKER.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 20, 1860.

To the Editors of the National Intelligencer:

GENTLEMEN: A very inaccurate statement of my testimony before the Covode Investigating Committee of Congress has been published in the New-York papers.

Much and long as we may have differed on political questions, I have faith that you will be willing to do me justice by a truthful publication of the facts of the case.

I send you a correct statement of my evidence before the Committee; also a copy of my letter of 28th June, 1857, to Mr. BUCHANAN, and to which his of July 12th was a reply.

Accompanying this is my statement to the Committee as regards this letter, to produce which I reserved my right.

I submit the whole to an impartial public with this comment only: That the correspondence proves that Mr. BUCHANAN and myself concurred in the Spring of 1857 in the construction of the Kansas and Nebraska act, that it required the submission of the Constitution to the vote of the people of Kansas. To that construction of that act, which Mr. BUCHANAN and myself were both sworn to support, I adhered; and therefore considered the refusal of the Convention to submit the Constitution to the vote of the people as a clear violation of the Kansas and Nebraska act, and therefore, under its distinct provisions, null and void. I was sworn to support that law, and so was Mr. BUCHANAN. I did support it, and therefore opposed the withholding of the Constitution from the vote of the people. It is quite clear, as was the opinion of Mr. BUCHANAN and myself, that the Kansas and Nebraska act required the submission of the Constitution to the vote of the people; and any action in Kansas repugnant to that act was, under its provisions, null and void. So I regarded such action, and therefore it was my duty to oppose it.

But there were other reasons. The programme finally adopted did not, as pretended, submit even the Slavery question to the vote of the people; nay, it deliberately, and willfully, and fraudulently withheld that question from their vote. The only question submitted was, "For the Constitution with Slavery" and "For the Constitution without Slavery;" thus excluding by a deliberate fraud from this vote all, constituting an overwhelming majority, who were opposed to the Constitution. And this was the very reason given to me by Calhoun, the President of the Convention, why this peculiar language was selected. It was a wretched device of fraud and villainy.

I send you a copy, preserved in the hand-writing of my Secretary, of my letter of the 28th June, 1857, to which Mr. BUCHANAN's was a reply. That letter, disclosing my inmost thoughts, and never intended to meet the public eye, will show how false has been the statement that my action in Kansas was hostile to the South. It was all in their favor, to the extent of the just and honest exercise of my power in Kansas. I believed, and so announced then my anxious desire, to the execution of which my life has been devoted, to preserve the equilibrium of the Government. I indorsed fully the Dred Scott decision, and especially that portion of it (always maintained by me) that the true period when the people can abolish Slavery in a Territory is when they perform the first act of sovereignty in forming a State Constitution. I maintained this doctrine in an elaborate argument published over my signature in June, 1856, from which I have never departed.

I consider myself, gentlemen, as much withdrawn from politics as if I had ceased to exist, and now only ask the privilege of vindicating myself and the truth of history. Yours, truly, R. J. WALKER.

[Here follow the letter of Gov. WALKER to the President and Mr. BUCHANAN's reply, which have already appeared at length in the TIMES.]

THE PRESIDENT'S ORGAN ON GOV. WALKER'S TESTIMONY.

From the Constitution of Saturday.

For the present, we pass without comment the testimony of Hon. R. J. WALKER, which has been so conspicuously heralded to the world. Instead of answers to any interrogatory, it seems to be a carefully-prepared account of his stewardship as Governor of Kansas.

He says the President favored the submission of the Constitution of Kansas to the people, and so he did. That is fully admitted. This has never been denied. But he says further, that during the progress of the Lecompton Convention he was advised by Mr. CALHOUN, the President, that the plan finally adopted, which Mr. WALKER considers a great departure from the doctrine of submission, was suggested and approved by the President. This statement of Mr. CALHOUN he did not believe. He acquits the President of all knowledge of the programme adopted, and then he uses this exact language:

"It is also due to frankness to further say, that I am fully impressed with the conviction that the President himself did not get up this programme, though I do believe it was gotten up by some of the Administration, or others high in authority."

At this time the propriety or impropriety of the plan is not a question with which we care to deal. Who got it up, or whether it was in accordance with Mr. WALKER's or the President's plan, is not put in issue. But when Mr. WALKER says "it was gotten up by some of the Administration," he must mean, all the world will understand him to mean, by some member of the Cabinet. Here arises a grave question. If any member of the Cabinet has sought, or has taken steps, to change the line of action of the President in an important matter of State policy, without the advice, knowledge, or consent of the President, he has been guilty of an act of infidelity and bad faith which should invoke his severest censure. Indeed, such conduct would be dishonorable, and justly incur a forfeiture of his confidence.

In this view, we think we have the right to demand of Mr. WALKER the naming of the individual implicated. In the absence of a reply, we shall maintain he is wholly mistaken, or is wholly unable to substantiate the grounds of his belief.

ROBBERIES.—On Friday night last the house of JASPER CAIRNS, No. 249 South Second-street, Jersey City, was entered by burglars, who stole a watch, jewelry and money, in all amounting to over $150.

Yesterday morning a young fellow, giving his name as GEORGE GRIFFIN, was arrested by officer WHEELER, of Jersey City, on suspicion of having stolen two deeds and a number of papers belonging to JOHN CARIGAN. A coat, memorandum-books, and other articles, were also found in his possession. The prisoner was committed for examination.

WHO IS COL. LANDER?

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

WASHINGTON, Thursday, April 19.

That your readers may know something about Col. F. W. LANDER, who is the talk of the town here just now from his peculiar position in the Potter and Pryor difficulty, I will say that he is the well known Pacific Railroad explorer, who took it into his head after having been connected with the Government explorations in 1853, to examine a greater breadth of country along the northern route to California, upon a line which he believed had not been done justice under the programme of the War Department of PIERCE's Administration. He has made two reports to Congress upon the subject in years past, which were printed as public documents. His route was adopted by the Pacific Railroad Convention of California, and has just become the choice of the Select Railroad Committee of the House of Representatives. Col. LANDER offered a bill this session, in which he proposed to construct a Railroad on the first four hundred miles of his route for a remarkably small sum of money. He is a distinguished engineer, and undoubtedly has reasons for making the offer. The objection to the bill is that he does not ask for money enough. He has just constructed the Overland Wagon-road on the route he advocates.

A few months since, the Press was teeming with accounts of the vigor and energy with which this work was conducted, and the amount of money he returned to the Treasury on its completion. This sum it was proposed the present season to apply to the erection of tanks for, or creating supplies of water on the desert near the eastern base of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. It was also designed by the Secretary of the Interior to have an excellent map made of the country near the yet unfixed boundary of California, on the eastern slope.

But while Secretary THOMPSON, who had secured the efficient services of LANDER, by paying him an extra price, was laying out the plan of operations, the following peculiar circumstance occurred: Senators GWIN and LATHAM, and Representatives BURCH and SCOTT, addressed Col. LANDER a letter, requesting him to give his aid to have one of their constituents appointed to the superintendency, stating that the services of an engineer were not required. LANDER's answer to this communication, to which the gentlemen have never yet replied, is as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12, 1860.

To the Senators and Representatives of the State of California, Hon. Wm. M. Gwin, Hon. Milton S. Latham, Hon. Charles L. Scott, Hon. John C. Burch:

GENTLEMEN: Although Hon. MILTON S. LATHAM, after presenting me, in the presence of Hon. J. C. BURCH, your joint letter of April 4, requested me to let the matter lie until further notice, circumstances compel this communication.

I have learned that you based your opinion that I had expressed a willingness to give up the Superintendency of the Overland Wagon-road upon the statements of my report and the remarks of Mr. J. C. CAMPBELL. I have the honor to lay before you the particular extracts, from the report itself, which refer to future work, and the employment of Engineers and Superintendents.

Extracts from F. W. Lander's Report of March 1, 1860.

"In reference to any further expenditures, we cannot fair to note the sufferings of the emigrants between the head of the Humboldt River and the settlements at the eastern base of the Sierra Nevada mountains. The law of Congress directs the construction of this road to Honey Lake. The emigration usually breaks up at Lassen's Meadows, whence there are not less than three routes to California. All of them pass over a desert upon which the expenditure of money will be of very great service in developing supplies of pure water. Under the law it is plain that the improvements must be made upon the northernmost route, but Mr. CAMPBELL, who has passed over all these lines of travel, and who was entrusted with the important duty of obtaining further information in regard to them, reports to me that the Truckee River line, which is the central, is that best adapted to emigrant travel. If either of these works are attempted, I would suggest the employment of F. A. BISHOP, Esq., Chief Engineer of the Kirk Expedition, who studied these roads with great care, and is well known as an efficient and accomplished engineer. With such service as Mr. J. C. CAMPBELL could render him, I have no doubt that any expenditures, made upon the Western Division, would be conducted with energy and economy.

While it is not expedient to build the western division from the Missouri border, the citizens of California and Nevada claim that some portion of this Government work shall be allotted to them, and although I have never heard that they would object to my supervision of it, I should cheerfully defer to any new arrangement of the sort proposed.

In view of the false reports made by Mormon traders, I think it advisable that a small party should be placed at the South Pass, at the commencement of the present season. In fact, it is indispensably necessary that emigrants should be correctly informed as to the character of the new road on reaching that important point. For the purpose of carrying out the views herewith submitted, and those of my report on the Indian affairs, made to Hon. Commissioner GREENWOOD, it may seem expedient to you to once more send a small expedition over the road. If instructions were immediately given, a party could start from the border by the 20th of April, carry out the suggestions of my Indian report, bridge Green River and the smaller streams, and, going on to California, unite with that of the western division the same season, passing the last of the emigration over the desert, as improved by BISHOP and CAMPBELL."

I am not responsible for the remarks of Mr. J. C. CAMPBELL.

You will perceive that, in deference to the claims of the State of California, I recommend the employment of a scientific engineer of that State, with J. C. CAMPBELL, as his assistant, on the Western Division. These individuals would necessarily employ the labor of California and Nevada. But this would not imply that I surrendered my own claims to service, there being three divisions of the Wagon-Road, all of which were then, and are now, under my charge. Neither could it imply that I did other than state my willingness to "cheerfully defer to any new arrangement of the sort proposed," for such is my exact language. The whole affair was in the hands of the honorable Secretary of Interior, who has thought it proper to omit the work on the Central Division, and to use the remaining balance of money on the Western portions of the road, sending me there both as engineer and superintendent to expend it. He had already, prior to your application to me, given me verbal instructions, permitting me to retain a portion of my best subordinates, among them my assistant engineers, required for the important service of completing the mapping of the Western Division, and other purposes. Indeed, my agent had gone to California in the 5th of April steamer, to arrange for the field-work. How can I, knowing these facts, and the necessity for engineering labor, especially after having recommended an engineer as a suitable person to take my place on the western end of the road, how can I use my influence for your constituent? I can only make way for him, and that only at your request that I should, because neither the Secretary, nor I believe the members from Oregon and Washington, desire me to give up the Superintendency.

The steamer leaves on the 20th. If a party goes out, it must start at that time. This matter, therefore, resolves itself into explicit statements. Your note is in some respects vague. Exact expressions are what is now required. Let me ask you, therefore, gentlemen, upon the receipt of this letter, to address me at once, and plainly state whether you wish me to resign my place. I will then refer your letter to the members from Oregon, and the Delegate from Washington. If, on receiving their answers, a majority of the Pacific delegates have desired me to resign, I shall most cheerfully do so.

I am, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

(Signed,) F. W. LANDER.

Col. LANDER refused to allow me to examine or publish the letter of the California delegation to him, as it was a private letter, and there was no personal difficulty between himself and these gentlemen. As his reply contains much of information with regard to this great work, he has consented to its use.

It will be recollected that Col. L. is a native of Salem, Mass., and brother of Miss LOUISE LANDER, who has, at the age of twenty-five, achieved a world-wide fame as an artist. Her peculiar forte is portrait busts, and some of her works have received the approbation and applause and patronage of the Old World. She is now in Rome pursuing her profession, and owes her education to the gallant Colonel.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

MORTALITY.—During the week ending Saturday last, there were 118 deaths reported to the Health Department, classified as follows: Men 26, women 22; boys 39, girls 31. Adults 48, children 70. Males 65, females 53. Colored persons 3. There were 18 deaths by consumption, 11 by infantile convulsions, and 9 by scarlet fever.

FIRE.—At about 5 o'clock Saturday morning last, a fire broke out in the linseed oil factory owned by CAMPBELL & THAYER, at No. 69 Front-street, doing an estimated damage of $200.

THE WORTH MONUMENT is slowly but very surely and solidly advancing towards completion, the corner-posts and coping for the railing being nearly laid. At the instance of Gen. WORTH's family, the inscription of "Buena Vista" has been replaced by that of "Fort George," as the General was not present at the former battle.

Gov. Wise Withdraws his Name as a Candidate.

LETTER FROM EX-GOV. WISE.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 18, 1860.

I have been requested to meet a number of my friends, Delegates to Charleston, at Richmond, on the 19th inst. Determining not to do so, for obvious reasons, I have come to this city for family purposes alone, on my way to attend to professional duties in Accomac. Yet my sense of duty to my friends requires me not to leave them without my aid, as far as lies in my power, to relieve them from all embarrassment, in respect to my name at least, in the Charleston Convention. The division of sentiment in Virginia, I fear, may tend to destroy the unity of the Democratic Party in the State. And nothing which I can do shall be omitted to prevent such a deplorable result in the present distracted state of the country. I was anxious to have a fair and full expression of the preference of Virginia. Whether that has been done or not, it is not proper now to discuss; because the Delegates who have been chosen will necessarily have to declare that preference, and their action ought not to be impugned or impaired in advance. Whether the voice of the State has been truly expressed or not, I hesitate not to admit that its preference has not been declared for me; and I would not claim it where there was the least ground of cavil or mistake. Whoever else the preference has been expressed for, it has not been expressed for me. Without the voice of Virginia, clearly and indisputably declared for me, I decline to allow my name to be presented primarily before the Convention for such a nomination. In no event am I willing that it shall cause any division of the vote of our delegation. I beg my friends, therefore, not to offer my name, but to unite cordially with the majority of the delegation, and to present the vote of the State a unit before the Convention. I request them, too, to do this in good faith, without exacting any alternate pledges whatever. Let Virginia be a unit as to the nomination, let her adhere to her constitutional principles, unit or not, and let the harmony of the Democratic Party be preserved. This is all I have to say to my friends, and I trust it will not only disembarrass them, but free me from the unjust imputation of designing or desiring to distract or divide the Democracy. And this you are authorized to announce to them, and to publish to the world.

Railroad Suit.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Your report of the case of Mrs. THOMPSON vs. The Hudson River Railroad is incorrect. The verdict was $6,000 instead of $7,000.

It is due to the Justices in the Second District (especially to Justice LOTT) to notice the fact that this cause was tried within one month after issue joined. The verdict was paid in three months after the accident happened.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES AND MURDER.—The Mobile Mercury says: "We have learned certainly, that the homicide of ENOS TARTT, at the hands of THOMAS SIMMS, on last Monday morning, did occur at the said SIMMS' house, six miles west of Sumterville, and eight miles east of Gainesville Junction, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. At the last accounts, the coroner was holding an inquest over the body of TARTT. SIMMS made a statement before the jury, from which we infer he made no attempt to evade the law. As told to us his statement ran thus: He said he believed he ought to have killed TARTT three years ago, but lacking positive evidence that his suspicions were well grounded, he did not. On Monday morning, awhile before day, his wife got up out of bed, and was absent about a half an hour. She returned and went to bed again, but presently got up and went out of the house again. He arose and watched her movements cautiously. She went into a clump of bushes in one corner of the enclosure. There he saw her meet with another person, and he attempted to gain another point nearer, which he thought he could approach without being observed, and from which he thought he could hear what might be said, and see what might be done, as well as discover and identify the person she had met. While he was making this movement his wife and the person with her disappeared. Subsequently he met his wife in the house, and she told him that he 'needn't trouble himself about her any longer—that she was going to leave him and wouldn't live with him any longer; that Mr. TARTT was coming that day and was to carry her away.' He said TARTT drove up to his gate that morning in a buggy, and deliberately got out and hitched his horse and came in. A quarrel ensued, and TARTT got out his knife, and he (SIMMS) got his double-barrel gun and shot him. Our informant says SIMMS desired to make further statements, but his friends insisted he should say no more and restrained him. SIMMS' wife was a witness before the jury, and contradicted her husband's statement, but what her testimony was we could not learn."

HOTELS.

MOUNT PROSPECT HOUSE,

West Bloomfield, New-Jersey, will be opened for the reception of boarders on the 1st of May. A cottage house on the grounds to rent. W. HOLT.
Guests conveyed to and from the dépôt free of charge.

HALIFAX HOTEL TO LET, AND POSSESSION GIVEN MAY 1.—This large and well-situated Hotel, built with all modern conveniences, in the centre of the city, expressly to meet the rapidly-growing wants of the traveling public, but lately occupied by the Government as officers' quarters, will be vacant after the first day of May; and offers to hotel-keepers or others desirous of engaging in that business, an opportunity seldom met with.

The completion of the railroad to Windsor and Truro, the connection established from the former place with St. John, New-Brunswick, Portland, Boston, and Canada, by the Grand Trunk Railway, and from the latter with Pictou, the various ports in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Prince Edward's Island, and Quebec, together with the arrival at, and departure from Halifax direct of the European, American, West Indian, and Newfoundland Mail steamers, and the long admitted want of hotel accommodation in this city, render this enterprise well worthy of consideration. Application may be made to either of the subscribers, at Halifax, and any further information required by persons in the United States will be given by Messrs. WHITMAN BROS. & CO., No. 72 Beaver-st., New-York.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS'
MANUFACTURERS OF
GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT
PIANO-FORTES,
SINCE 1823.
NO. 694 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.

Since the period in which JONAS CHICKERING established this house 22,500 Pianos have been constructed and finished under his supervision, and that of his sons, for the superiority of which have been awarded them at exhibitions in the United States, being the highest premiums over all competition.

They also received the

PRIZE MEDAL

At the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

The names of Thalberg, Benedict, and D. Black need only be referred to to show of what class the judges upon this occasion were composed.

The attention of the public is specially requested to the new Scales Plain and Overstrung

which, for Quality, Strength and Purity of Tone, Delicacy of Action, and general style of Finish, are unsurpassed by any Pianos now offered to the Public. This fact has been attested to by the leading artists of this country and of Europe.

My Dear Sir:

I can only repeat that which has been said so often by others as well as myself—that I consider the Chickering & Sons' Pianos far beyond comparison—the best I have ever seen in America.

S. THALBERG.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10, 1859.

Messrs. Chickering & Sons:

GENTLEMEN: I wish to thank you for the use of your Piano-fortes, which you have so kindly furnished me for my four concerts in this city, and to say in this connection that the opinion which I expressed three years ago has been more than confirmed to me by the continued use of them—viz., that for volume and pure quality of tone, with nicety of articulation, they are unequaled. Truly, the reputation of the Chickering Pianos is well deserved. I remain yours, very truly,

GUSTAV SATTER.
LAFARGE HOTEL, New-York, May 10, 1859.

Messrs Chickering & Sons:

GENTLEMEN: During the tour of Mlle. Maria Piccolimini in the United States, I have necessarily used the various Piano Fortes of manufacturers, and therefore believe myself capable of judging of their various merits. I most unhesitatingly give the preference to your Piano Fortes for their quality of tone, delicacy of touch, and uniform excellence. E. MUZIO.

Conductor at Her Majesty's Theatre, in London, and at the Academy of Music in New-York.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3, 1859.

My Dear Sir:

Allow me to thank you for the use of the splendid Grand Pianos which I have had at Ullman's Concerts in this city. I think that it is needless to repeat what the whole world knows viz: that CHICKERING & SONS' Pianos are unequaled in any respect, and stand preeminent in this country. Nevertheless, if my words can have any weight in this matter, I am very happy to add my testimonial to those of my predecessors.

I remain, yours truly,
GUSTAV SATTER.

It would be needless to multiply testimonials. It may, however, be satisfactory to our patrons and friends among the public at large, to state that testimonials have been received from all the leading artists who have visited, or are now residing in the United States, to the full as determinate and explicit as those above presented. A list of the principal names is here appended:

GOTTSCHALK,	J. N. PYCHOWSKI,
LEOPOLD DE MEYER,	J. BENEDICT,
ALFRED JAELL,	M. STRAKOSCH,
WM SCHARFENBERG,	JULLIEN,

THE OVER-STRUNG
GRAND AND SQUARE PIANO-FORTES,
Manufactory and Warerooms
Nos. 75 to 85 East 13th st.,
Near Broadway, New-York.

Purchasers may rely upon these instruments. They are warranted for five years, and the prices moderate.

THE DRIGGS PATENT, OR THE VIOLIN PIANOS—Manufactured and sold by the DRIGGS PIANO COMPANY, No. 543 Broadway. There is no strain whatever upon the case or sounding boards. There are two sounding boards, outwardly convex like the violin, giving three times the vibratory surface obtained in any other piano. The strain is borne by an independent iron frame, and it is stronger and will remain in tune longer than any other Piano. The case forms a vibratory shell, the same as the body of a violin, and is not filled up with heavy blocks and planking as in other Pianos. Its construction is far more simple, and it is the only Piano made on scientific principles. "It is the best Piano-forte existing."

S. B. DRIGGS, Patentee and Inventor.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.—OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS, No. 32 Chambers-st., NEW YORK, Jan. 10, 1860.—Notice is hereby given that the Assessment Rolls of Real and Personal Estate of the City of New-York for the year 1860 are now open for public inspection, and will continue open until the 30th day of April next, inclusive. All tax-payers are earnestly requested to call and examine the same, in order that any errors in the assessments may be corrected. Also, all persons entitled by law to reduction of their assessments, by reason of being clergymen, or for military services; and also literary or charitable institutions, by law exempt from taxation, are requested to make application for such reduction or exemption previous to the closing of the rolls on said 30th day of April.

The following section of the act of April 14, 1859, is published for the information of tax-payers:

SECTION 10. During the time the books shall be open for public inspection, as heretofore provided, application may be made by any person considering himself aggrieved by the assessed valuation of his real or personal estate, to have the same corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of real estate it must be made in writing, stating the ground of objections thereto, and thereupon the Commissioners shall examine into the complaint, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of personal estate the applicant shall be examined under oath by the said Commissioners, who shall be authorized to administer such oath, or any of them, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected, and fix the amount of such assessment as they may believe to be just, and declare their decision thereon within thirty days after such application shall have been made to them. No reduction shall be made by the Board of Supervisors of any assessment on real or personal estate imposed under this act, unless it shall appear, under oath or affirmation, that the party aggrieved was unable to attend within the period prescribed for the correction of taxes, by reason of sickness or absence from the City.—Laws of 1859, chapter 302, section 9.

CENTRAL DEPARTMENT OF METROPOLITAN POLICE, }
No 413 Broome-st., April 19, 1860 }

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Police will, in conformity with the 16th section of the Police Act, passed 10th day of April, 1860, on the application of any President of an incorporated village within the Metropolitan Police District, or Corporation, or person or persons showing the necessity thereof, detail regular Patrolmen of the Police force to do special duty at any place within the Metropolitan Police District.

Application for the services of Patrolmen in the county of Kings and in the towns of Newtown, Flushing and Jamaica, in the county of Queens will be made to the Office Inspector of Police, in the City of Brooklyn, and in the counties of New-York, Westchester and Richmond, to the Office Inspector, at this Department.

The terms of service will be as follows:

For each Patrolman, for not less than 24 hours or more than 15 days, at the rate of $1 50 100 per day.

For 15 days and less than 30 days, at the rate of $2 25 100 per day.

For 30 days and upwards, at the rate of $2 20-100 per day.

By order of the Board of Police.

GEORGE W. EMBREE, Chief Clerk.

TO VENDORS OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS IN THE METROPOLITAN POLICE DISTRICT.—Notice is hereby given that, by the provisions of the 42d section of the act entitled, "An act to amend an act entitled an act to establish a Metropolitan Police District," passed April 10, 1860, it is declared that it shall not be lawful for any person to publicly keep or dispose of any intoxicating liquors upon the first day of the week called Sunday, under a penalty of Fifty Dollars for each offence; and it is made the duty of the Superintendent of Police to strictly enforce the provisions of this section by his proper orders in respect thereto to the members of the Metropolitan Police force, and it is made the duty of the said members in respect to the enforcing the provisions of this section to proceed in the manner provided by law for the arrest of offenders.

Public notice is therefore given that, in compliance with law, orders will be issued to the members of the Metropolitan Police to arrest all persons publicly keeping or disposing of any intoxicating liquor on Sunday.

By order of the Board of Police.
GEORGE W. EMBREE, Chief Clerk.

CAUTION.—PERSONS RECEIVING LETTERS from "H. T. Moody, Elizabethtown, Ky., soliciting them to discount his drafts on me, representing himself to be a nephew of mine and in distress, are cautioned against complying with his request. I have no knowledge of this Moody, and he is not my nephew.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The enlargement of the circulation of the Times is at the present moment so rapid as to render it imperative that advertisements intended for the daily issue should be sent in at the earliest possible moment. Announcements which fail to reach the office before nine o'clock P. M., lose all the advantages of classification under the heads to which readers are accustomed to refer. It is, therefore, quite as important to the advertisers as to ourselves, to have that hour the latest for the reception of their notices.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The National Democratic Convention assembles to-day, at Charleston. Full delegations from every State in the Union are present, with, however, an unusually slender attendance of outside members, speculators, spectators and regulators; a deficiency probably due to the astonishing stories heretofore current regarding the extortions contemplated by the publicans of Charleston. A general survey of the coming contest reveals as yet nothing decisive. The fact that Mr. Douglas has a majority, is, we believe, conceded on all sides. The belief that he lacks the strength necessary to a two-third vote is also general, and it is certain that the protesting or Anti-Douglas States of the South will not accede to the nomination of the Illinois statesman upon any condition. As Messrs. Wise and Hunter have both practically withdrawn from the contest, there is little doubt that either Mr. Douglas or a representative of his views will be the nominee.

The America, which reached Boston last evening, with European advices to the 8th, brings no intelligence of moment. The Turin Opinione announces that in the course of a few days the inhabitants of Nice and Savoy were to be permitted to express themselves upon annexation to France, through universal suffrage. It is noteworthy how accurately the policy of the French Emperor is pursued; first the troops are posted throughout the territory, and then we have the vote. The occupation of Central Italy by the armies of Sardinia has been completed, divisions of Gen. Cialdini's army having been posted in the Romagna, Parma and Modena. Bologna, Ravenna and Ferrara are garrisoned by the Piedmontese. With regard to the new commercial treaty between France and England, the Moniteur states that it has already begun to exercise a stimulating influence upon the business of Southern France, unusually large orders for wine and spirits having been received. Prof. Delarue has been appointed Resident Minister at London of the Swiss Confederation. The Federal Council of that Republic has just addressed a fresh circular on the subject of Savoy to the Governments consenting to the General Conference. Gen. Ortega, who made the recent pitiable fiasco in behalf of Don Carlos, had been degraded from his military rank. He is still at large. The affair has made no excitement in Spain. Gen. Lamoricière, whose appointment as General-in-Chief of the Papal army has been repeatedly reported, has just been gazetted to that position. He had been formerly received at the Vatican. The disturbance previously mentioned as of recent occurrence at Palermo, proves to have been a serious affair. It was only after an obstinate conflict in the streets and houses that the insurrection was suppressed. A similar uprising at Messina was still unrepressed. Australian advices represent the state of the mining interest as encouraging. Business was dull. The firm of N. & R. Gutheridge, railroad contractors on the Geelong Road, have failed.

A few additional particulars by the Overland Pony Express of April 11, have come to hand. The Bulkhead party interpret a recent vote in the State Assembly as favorable to their views. A street encounter occurred at Sacramento on the 11th between Mr. Bell, an Assemblyman from Eldorado County, and Dr. W. H. Stone. The latter was fatally shot. The mining operations at Carson's Valley have been much retarded by bad weather. The population was rapidly augmenting, thousands pouring in from California, undeterred by the rumors of bloodshed and anarchy, arising from the absolute want of governmental control. The prices of provisions were enormously high.

The trial of Rev. Jacob A. Harden, for the murder of his wife by poison, is still proceeding at Belvidere, N. J. Ten or a dozen additional witnesses were examined on Friday and Saturday, but the evidence developed no new facts having a different bearing on the case from the general tenor of the evidence heretofore published. The testimony bears heavily upon the accused, whose conduct throughout his wife's sickness excites strong suspicion of his guilt. A letter was produced in Court, written by the prisoner just previous to his wife's death, in which he deplores the prospect of his becoming a widower, in language of deep grief and pious resignation, strangely inconsistent with his behavior towards her during her sickness, as testified to by Mrs. Ramsay, Mrs. Geary, and others. The case will be continued to-day.

The new Board of Commissioners of Public Charities, organized on Saturday, by the choice of Mr. Simeon Draper, as President, and Mr. Isaac Bell, Jr., as Secretary. The Board consists of those gentlemen, with Messrs. Moses H. Grinnell and James B. Nicholson, two Republicans and two Democrats. The ceremony of taking the oaths of office had previously been performed before Judge Bonney, of the Supreme Court at Chambers. The Ten Governors, through Mr. Pinckney, their late President, surrendered all property, effects, and papers to the new organization, after which the Commissioners proceeded, in company with the Comptroller, to the islands to assume possession of the property there, confided to them by the new law.

The steamboat Hunchback, belonging to the Staten Island Ferry Company, took fire yesterday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, while lying in the basin between the upper and middle landings, and before the flames could be subdued her entire upper works were destroyed. She was finally scuttled and her hull and engine thus saved from total destruction. Two persons who were engaged in efforts to subdue the flames, received serious injuries, one, Mr. Benjamin Brown, being badly cut in the head by an accidental blow from an axe or hook, and another by falling from the upper to the lower deck. The origin of the fire is not known.

The Anniversary of the Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Society for Seamen, in the City and Port of New-York, was held last evening, in Dr. Tyng's Church. From the annual report which was read, it appeared that the society had been quite successful in aiding Jack Tar pecuniarily, as well as religiously. The receipts, however, were but $6,479, while the expenses were $8,265. A liberal donation was made for the purposes of the coming year. Rev. H. J. Morton, D. D., preached the annual sermon.

The Mercantile Element and Influence of Slavery, and the Method and Duty of its Emancipation, were the topics of a discourse delivered last evening, in the Church of the Puritans, by Rev. Dr. Cheever. He was vehement, as usual, in his denunciation of the servile system, and argued at much length in advocacy of his well-known and radical views.

On the Stock Exchange, on Saturday, after the active business at the Board, prices were easier, and a reaction of ½@1 ℔ cent. on some of the Railway Shares followed late in the afternoon. The market closed unsettled. Exchange firmer at 109 on London. Money easy and cheap.

The General Markets lacked animation. Flour was unsettled. State and Western brands were quiet. Southern grades were in very good request. Wheat and Corn were in moderate demand, as were likewise the principal kinds of Provisions, Groceries, Hay, Hops, Spirits Turpentine and Whisky. Honey was briskly sought after, mainly for export. Seeds, Codfish and Linseed Oil were inquired for. The freight engagements were limited, with 453 vessels in port.

Gov. Wise—A Lesson for Agitators and Ultraists.

There could not be a more instructive commentary upon the absolute worthlessness, in an electioneering point of view, of violent and extravagant language and reckless behavior, on the part of candidates for the Presidency, than is afforded by Gov. Wise's letter of the 18th inst. to the Virginia delegates, announcing his final withdrawal of his name from the list of competitors. At a period when so many political adventurers are in the habit of placing their main reliance in the struggle for the topmost places of the Republic upon the use of frantic denunciation, ferocious and extravagant threats, and wilful and labored exaggerations, it is but right that the attention of the public should be called in emphatic terms to the swift destruction which has come upon the ambitious hopes of the most truculent and turbulent of all the agitators, whose gyrations and contortions form so large a portion of our national calamities.

This gentleman was but four or five months ago reveling in ecstacies over one of the saddest and silliest events in our history. Seventeen men, led by a fanatic, seized on an undefended building in the night, and in the morning defended it until nearly the whole band had been killed. The object avowed by the leader, John Brown—the emancipation of negro slaves—excited, owing to the extreme susceptibility of the South on the subject of Slavery, a great deal of alarm and indignation. But, like all popular excitements, it was wild, unreasoning, credulous, prone to exaggeration. It took for granted the most arrant absurdities, saw danger in the merest trifles, found Abolitionists behind every bush, and treason in every peddler's pack. It had, in short, all the characteristics of all great panics. It called forth just those exhibitions of ferocious selfishness and barbarous injustice which great fear taking possession of great multitudes always breeds, and with which everybody is familiar, who has ever read of the leading "plots" of history; and it was more repulsive than most of such sad revelations of human weakness, because it derived its chief support from the hypothesis, that nearly one half of one of the most civilized and Christian nations on the globe was bent upon bringing about the massacre of the other half.

Its outbreak found Mr. Henry A. Wise Governor of Virginia and Commander-in-chief of her army. He was placed from the first moment in possession of all the evidence in existence regarding the strength, plans and expectations of the conspirators. He saw that they were in every way contemptible, that no real danger was to be apprehended from them; that they were, in all, less than a thousand fanatics, of whom not fifty were fighting-men; that the mass of people at the North had nothing more to do with the movement than the mass of people in England; that, in short, good sense, calmness and moderation, and not powder and ball, were all that were needed to restore confidence and tranquillity.

But confidence and tranquillity were apparently the very last things whose restoration he desired. From the moment the news reached him of John Brown's seizure of the armory to the last day of his term of office, he seems to have devoted all his powers of mind and body to inducing the people of Virginia to believe that large bodies of armed men were waiting in the Free States to invade their State, raise the negroes in insurrection, and treat all the white inhabitants to fire and sword, and that the whole North was affording them countenance and aid. To support his theory and aggravate the excitement, he called out the militia, proclaimed martial law, performed the unprecedentedly ludicrous feat of escorting a solitary criminal to the gallows with a small army, including cavalry and artillery, traveled to and fro, and delivered inflammatory speeches, exaggerating all anticipated dangers, painting the future in the most horrible colors, and doing everything that bombast and fustian and a good pair of lungs could do to excite hatred, discord and distrust between the two great sections into which the Union is divided. When some silly medical students had become sufficiently bemuddled by his harangues to run away from excellent medical schools in Philadelphia in order to join very bad schools in Richmond and Charleston, instead of rebuking them for their folly, he welcomed them in torrents of rhodomontade, and ended a course of unparalleled foolery and turbulence by threatening to invade Ohio and capture British vessels on the high seas.

Unhappily for himself, however, though happily for his fellow-citizens, he was the proud possessor of an "organ"—the Richmond Enquirer, edited by his son, expressing his views concerning both himself and the rest of mankind. Its constant laudations of him from the commencement of the disturbance, coupled with fervid recommendations of him as the only person who could properly fill the Presidential chair in the great crisis in national affairs which was just approaching, furnished a plain explanation of his froth and fury. The man who squelched John Brown was the only person who could fittingly fill the politico-military position which the successor of James Buchanan would have to occupy. Of the many changes rung on this inviting theme we have no time to say more.

But we have the consolation of now recording, for the honor of Virginia, as well of the American people in general, that this ingenious device has failed thoroughly and miserably, as it deserved to fail, and that John Brown has not been three months in his grave, nor the militia well back on their farms, when the great Wise sees the Presidency pass to steadier hands. Not only is he not likely to get the nomination, but even the Virginia delegation is not unanimous about his deserving it. He accordingly formally withdraws his name from the list of candidates, and the "organ," with inimitable brass, as well as unction, bestows upon this prudent step "its cordial approbation and acquiescence."

The moral of all this we earnestly commend to all the ranting, raving order of demagogues, on both sides, who fancy that by pandering fiercely to the passions of the hour they may build up their own fortunes. He who runs may read it. It is that in a country like ours, where the Press is free, and discussion goes on incessantly; where the pros and cons of every event are known in a few hours after it happens through the length and breadth of the continent; where the meanest as well as greatest, can always have a fair hearing at the bar of public opinion, it is impossible that a panic, or delusion, can be of long continuance. Let the storm rage ever so fiercely, the blue sky soon reappears, the shutters are thrown open and the light let in, and law, and justice, and humanity, and reason resume their sway. Let all ambitious stump orators, when they are lashing bad passions into fury, take warning by the fate of Henry A. Wise, and beware of taking the cheers and uproar which greet their fustian for the expression of an approval either deep or lasting. The man who wishes to lay hold of the people's hearts must see, above all things, that his public course is marked by average common sense—and that his principles will bear the sober examination of the fireside three months after their promulgation.

State Legislation for the City.

After all, we are inclined to think the Legislature has done the City more good than harm by its Winter's work. Attention has been so absorbed by one or two very bad bills, that we have had no thought for other laws which have been enacted. It is never easy to tell precisely what losses have been sustained until the action is over, and the field can be examined at leisure. Many who were at first supposed to be dead are then found to be only wounded, and others, who were among the missing, prove to have been a good deal more scared than hurt.

The Railroad bills were bad enough to cover half-a-dozen Legislatures with odium. They were corrupt, alike in the motive and the means of their passage, and will prove most oppressive and injurious in their effect upon the people of the City. Fortunately, however, the rails are not yet laid, nor are they likely to be for some time to come. The City authorities have resolved to contest the validity of these acts. We understand that very vigorous and effective measures will be taken to relieve the City from their operation,—and that the questions involved will be tried in the Federal Courts. We have very little doubt that, if the investigation is rigid and thorough, every one of these bills can be vacated, upon the ground that their enactment was the result of corruption and fraud. And if the people are true to themselves and their rights next Fall, a Legislature can be chosen which will either repeal these acts entirely, or so modify them as to make them valuable and acceptable to the people of the City.

But other measures that have been passed will prove beneficial in their operation. The changes in the Police Commission are for the better. The Board has been reduced in numbers, and thus increased in efficiency. Responsibility can no longer be evaded by being divided. The Mayors of New-York and Brooklyn can no longer use their seats at the Board for the promotion of their political schemes. Mr. Bowen, who is at once President of the Board and Superintendent of the Department, will be directly and personally responsible for its practical workings. If it becomes a political machine, it will be because he permits it. If its discipline is relaxed,—its vigilance diminished, its tone lowered, and its operation venal or inefficient, it will be because he is incompetent or indisposed to perform the grave and responsible duties of his position. On the other hand, he will reap whatever honor the improvement and perfection of the force may confer. He has such an opportunity to render the public a high and memorable service, and to win for himself a lasting and enviable reputation, as is seldom offered to any man in this country. A long term of service, accumulated powers, a yielding colleague, the most important office in the metropolis of the Union, and the greatest public eagerness for reform and improvement, combine to make his post precisely what the man most ambitious of serving the public honorably and well, would covet. If he appreciates his opportunities, and realizes how much more he can do for the public and himself, by a faithful and fearless performance of duty, than by the most zealous and efficient party service, he can give this City what it specially and urgently needs—an effective and independent Police Department.

In the Department of Public Charities the Legislature has rendered the City a similar service. The Ten Governor scheme was a failure. The attempt to prevent its becoming partisan, only made it corrupt. As both candidates were sure of success, a nomination was equivalent to an election. Corrupt men sought the place for the profit of its contracts, its jobs and its patronage, and bargaining and trafficking took the place of partisan struggles for ascendancy and power. This has been wisely abolished. The experiment is abandoned as a failure. And the Legislature has given us instead a small Commission, compact enough to be efficient, and holding power in such a way as to be made responsible for its exercise.

The Comptroller of the City has made a most excellent selection of Commissioners. He has divided the Board equally between the Republican and Democratic Parties, as he was bound in justice to do. Simeon Draper, one of the Republican members, is probably better fitted, by his energy and activity, and especially by his intimate practical knowledge of the whole range of our City charities, than any other man, to perform the duties of that post with fidelity and success. Moses H. Grinnell, the other Republican, is quite as widely known for enterprise, intelligence and public spirit, and will bring to the performance of his duties qualifications of character and advantages of position which the City of late years has seldom been able to enlist in its public service. The Democratic members are both men of unsuspected personal integrity,—not more active partisans than their Republican colleagues, and likely to be equally efficient and public spirited in their new position. The appointment of Isaac W. Bell, Jr., has been sharply censured, on account of his action as one of the Supervisors in the appointment of City Registrars last Fall. We denounced that action at the time as unjust and discreditable. It was universally condemned by the public, and regretted, we have no doubt, by Mr. Bell himself. But there is no reason for making it a bar to all future usefulness, or for exaggerating its importance as an index of character. Mr. Bell's personal integrity is nowhere questioned;—no one doubts his fidelity to a responsible public trust, and his energy, enterprise and intelligence have been amply vindicated by his business as well as his political career. Mr. J. B. Nicholson, his colleague, is a man of sterling character, and will make an efficient officer. He was an active supporter of Mr. Havemeyer at the last election, and is understood specially to represent the Catholic portion of our population,—though he is not likely to make any unjust distinction in the performance of his duties.

The new organization is a very great improvement upon the old one. The Commissioners hold office for five years, and are thus comparatively independent of political influences, and will introduce, we cannot doubt, valuable and greatly needed reforms in this important branch of the public service. The general tendency of the legislation in regard to the City has been towards the concentration of power and responsibility; and it is in this direction alone that we can look for any marked improvement in the various branches of our City Government.

Deliverance from the Gridiron.

It is highly probable that the local Government of this City has a right to pave its streets without the interference of the Albany log-rollers; at least, this time-honored custom will not probably be made illegal before the next session of our valuable Legislature. Such being the case, it is not only possible, but convenient and feasible, for our local Government so to pave our streets, and for our omnibus owners so to modify their vehicles, as to reduce the cost and increase the comfort of City travel, irrespective and independent of the City railroads. Let us relieve our minds once for all, of the common and absurd error that a flanged car wheel runs with less power and cost than an ordinary flat tire. On the contrary, it is wholly a question of surface and diameter of wheel, with the exception of the abnormal flange friction, which largely increases the resistance to car wheels.

The great fact, however, is this: so narrow is the gauge of City rails, that the cars overhang them on either side; hence, either the wheels must be very small, or the car-body must be so high as to be top-heavy and unsafe. The omnibus body, on the contrary, is between the wheels, and the latter may be of even larger diameter than at present. The effect of this is that the power required to draw an omnibus, with wheels of twice the average diameter of car wheels, on a given surface, is about one-half that required to draw a car of equal weight, since the resistance at the axles is as the diameter of the axle multiplied by the number of turns, or divided by the diameter of the wheel. Morin, Harding and Scott Russell agree that the resistance to rolling on pavements, good common roads and ordinary railways, is inversely as the diameter of the wheel. Now if our streets were paved with double lines of flat trams, say nine inches wide, level with the pavement, and offering no resistance to any variety or direction of traffic, twenty-four passenger omnibuses could run upon them with less power than that required for twenty-four passenger cars on a City railroad.

Again, the omnibus, by reason of its outside wheel connection, is susceptible of a most convenient, elastic, and even sensitive system of springs. These greatly decrease the rolling resistance. Morin found that at nine miles an hour, a vehicle on good pavements ran with one-half the power required without springs, when the ordinary wagon-springs were applied. Whether City cars have any springs or not, may be determined by passengers while passing joints and crossings. Again, the wheels of cars being fast on the axles, slide and grind upon curves, and the flange friction is also greatly augmented. But an omnibus, with loose wheels all round, runs as easily on a curve as on a straight line. And, lastly, on a good track, the omnibus could be lightened at least a quarter. In short, as a vehicle, the City car is a century behind the omnibus. It is the most outrageous vehicle known, except, perhaps, the steam railway car on friction rollers. It is, therefore, certain that one horse could manage a twenty-four passenger omnibus on a good tram-way. The vehicle itself could be made more convenient by hanging the body a foot lower between the wheels. Now, were such omnibuses well upholstered and ventilated, and divided into distinct seats by partitions or arms, the very fact of their being more elastic and steady than a city car can be, would attract the bulk of city travel. And, since their working expenses would be less, the fare could always be kept lower than those of the railways, and at a paying rate withal.

It may be said that horses will slip on the trams. The engineers of the new Westminster bridge report that horses do not slip on the flat trams laid there and elsewhere in London. A curved surface like a gutter rail is more likely to cause slipping. If the way is kept clean there is no danger of slipping, and even if there was, it would injure horses less than twisting their feet in the troughs of New-York rails.

So much for the streets not yet stolen by the Legislature. It has, indeed, stolen the right to lay railroads in some of them, but we very much doubt its power to authorize any nuisance not strictly necessary to the purposes and requirements of railroads. And since it can be mathematically proved that the ordinary form of rail is a nuisance, and that a flat tram-rail, which can be laid at the same cost, is not a nuisance, but rather a general convenience, it is probable that all the railway companies can be compelled to lay the flat rail. Now, a flat rail is the best kind of tram for the improved omnibuses, and it is almost unnecessary to say that they should be permitted and encouraged to run on the gridiron so generously provided by our indulgent Albany fathers.

There is another fact about City traffic, that would be of the highest importance were we speaking of any other city than this. In Philadelphia, for instance, steam street cars are successfully working, and are highly and generally approved. Their total expenses are $5 per day, against horse-cars at $10 per day, and they make no smoke or other nuisance. To be sure, they do not deposit manure to blow about the streets and into people's mouths and houses, but the Philadelphians are learning to dispense with this refinement of the old-fashioned traffic. Another generation may see steam in our streets, and when it does, the improved tram-road and omnibus mentioned, will possess far greater advantages than they now have over the rail-cars. They can turn out when necessary, not persistently damming up the streets with their inevitable straight lines, and they can leave passengers at the curb-stone instead of depositing them in puddles in the middle of the street. "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good."

State Lands in the City.

We publish in another column the act passed by the Legislature at its late session, providing for the transfer to the City of all lands along the North and East Rivers belonging to the State. We do this, because the subject is one of the utmost importance to the City, and because it is seriously misrepresented by the general comments of the Press, and in the veto message of the Governor.

The act authorizes a survey on behalf of the State, of all the lands which have been created by filling out into the rivers beyond the line of the City limits, as that line is defined by its charters. These lands have been formed under grants from the City,—grants which the City had no right to give, but of which it has been reaping the profits, and under which, in many cases, private persons now hold possession. What quantity of land is in this predicament cannot be known until the survey just ordered has been made;—but competent judges who have given the subject some attention say that it cannot be worth less than four or five millions of dollars. Legally it is the property of the State,—and in its present financial condition the State is not likely to relinquish its claim. Beyond all doubt it ought to belong to the City. The State ought to give it to the Corporation. But, unfortunately, the liberality of the State is not likely to take that direction. Our Legislatures are much more disposed to levy upon the City for an undue proportion of the public burdens, than to surrender to it money or property of any sort.

At all events, the City ought to be permitted to acquire this property upon favorable terms. It ought to have the first offer, if it is to be offered for a fixed sum,—and the price ought to be very far below the actual value of the lands themselves. It would be unjust and oppressive to compel the City to pay their full value for these lands, after it has created them at its own expense or that of its grantees. The State might exact this, and the City would have no relief. Gov. Morgan thought the lands should be sold at public auction. Unquestionably such a mode of sale would put the most money into the State Treasury, but it would be at the expense of the City, which would thus be compelled to purchase the lands at an enormous price, or suffer them to fall into private hands.

The act in question provides for this contingency. It protects the interest of the City, by authorizing the sale of these lands to the Corporation, at an equitable price. It authorizes a compromise and settlement, by the Comptroller, of all claims against the City growing out of the occupancy of them. The whole aim and effect of the bill is to save the City from heavy expense,—to enable it to acquire these lands, and adjust all claims growing out of its illegal occupation of them for so long a time, upon fair and easy terms. The alternative is simply between such a settlement and payment of full value for the lands and of all the back rents due upon them. We can understand why the State might object to the enactment of such a law; but we do not perceive the wisdom of denouncing or contending against it in the interest of the City.

Gov. Morgan in his veto Message stated that the title to this property was in Court, and that the State ought not to interfere with the case, or to anticipate the judicial decision that might be reached. Unless we are mistaken, however, all proceedings in the case were stopped by mutual consent, for the very purpose of seeking authority for a compromise and settlement of the question at the hands of the Legislature. The law of the case is perfectly clear; the City has nothing to gain and much to lose by the continuance of the controversy,—and every consideration of equity and economy require it to be adjusted upon the easiest terms which the State authorities can be induced to grant. The burdens of the City are already quite as heavy as it can bear. It seems to us highly desirable that it should avoid the addition to them of some millions of dollars, which without a compromise it will be compelled to pay, for lands which upon grounds of equity ought to belong to its domain.

Miscellaneous.

—The Tribune tells a tale of a Republican dog, who is sent regularly to a news-stand for the morning papers. It says that he curls his tail contemptuously at the Times, but is greatly elated when the Tribune is placed in his mouth. This only proves that he is a dogged devotee of party. He likes to wear a collar and follow a master himself, and he naturally prefers a newspaper that does the same thing. Besides, the Tribune must remember that he can't read,—he judges newspapers, like everything else, by the sense of smell: and the stronger the scent the clearer the case. "Am I not a dog and a brother?" is probably the exclamation that rises to his tail when he sees, or rather nose, that the Tribune is before him. We haven't the slightest doubt that he is a good dog, and a good Republican dog:—but we can't say that we should subscribe for a newspaper on the strength of his judgment.

—We think, on the whole, official swindling in Austria is a little more systematic and scientific than it has yet become in this country. A letter, which we published on Saturday from the London Times, mentions a very curious mode by which Army contractors plundered the Government. They agreed to deliver cattle at so much a head in Mantua. The cattle were driven in at one gate and counted,—driven through town, out at another gate and around the city to the first gate, where they were counted again,—and so on until the same cattle had actually been counted five times! The contractors also sold the hides:—but unfortunately they could only deliver the hides of one-fifth as many cattle as they had received pay for from the Government. This is a little ahead of our City Railroad schemes:—but we are a young people, comparatively, and have a wonderful facility at learning.

— One of the Richmond papers takes credit to Virginia for possessing a "stoical" population. It appears that when the Clay statue was unveiled, the people of Richmond regarded that work of art with "apathy." Our Richmond cotemporary considers this fact a parallel to the reception of a certain distinguished actress, who tried her prettiest to get up some degree of enthusiasm in a Virginia audience, and afterwards deplored to the editor her want of success in that little endeavor. Artists of all ranks, according to these frank admissions of the chivalry of the Old Dominion, have a hard time of it in that region. The only "artist" who succeeded in awakening the Virginia mind from the apathy into which it has sunk, was old John Brown. He did the business very effectually.

— Not content with the preparations already made in Canada for torturing the Prince of Wales, the Portland papers insist upon a revision of the programme, in order to compel that poor young man to go through the horrors of a "Municipal reception" at that Maine seaport. The plea urged in furtherance of this conspiracy is "the intimate connection of the city with the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada." The fishy region of Newfoundland is also agitating the propriety of appropriating $20,000 to get up a "stunning" welcome for His Royal Highness. If the Prince ever does get upon the throne, he will make war upon North America as surely as he is crowned king. The aggravations endured in these, his early years, will be a sufficient provocation for any extreme of violence.

—Tom Marshall has been lecturing for the last year or two in various cities of the West, and has more recently been in Buffalo. He has met, however, very poor success. The Advertiser says that the tickets to his lectures could not be given away—that no person of any self-respect would listen to the foul abuse which he heaps upon everything and everybody in the Northern States. The trouble with him is that he is perpetually drunk. Those who remember hearing him some years ago in this City, will recollect him as one of the most brilliant and effective of living orators. Very few men in this country have ever possessed greater power of swaying an audience, or shown a more splendid faculty of speech than he. His Temperance speeches at the Tabernacle were eloquent and effective beyond example. But he is now, and has been for years, a settled and confirmed drunkard. He still attempts, however, to make speeches and deliver lectures, but they are all the most dismal failures, and only exhibit still more conspicuously the shocking eclipse of splendid talents, by the degrading habit of which he has become the helpless victim.

—The heirs of the late Augustus E. Jessup, of Philadelphia, have performed an act which is very extraordinary in these days of contested wills. They have written a letter to Dr. Lea, President of the Academy of Natural Sciences, to say that it was the intention of their father to bequeath a legacy to that institution; but that, no provision to that effect having been made in his will, they take pleasure in guaranteeing the payment of an annual sum of $600 in furtherance of his expressed desire. The letter bears the signatures of A. E. Jessup, E. A. Jessup, and Clara J. Moore. It is a generous act and a good example; especially as four-fifths of the sum named is set apart for the relief of poor young students in science.

— Of the amount of paper consumed by a daily journal, the outsiders have a very faint idea. The paper annually employed in the publication of the New-York Times, if cut into inch strips, would pass around the Earth's waist about 15 times; and it would not require quite four years to paper every inch of Manhattan Island.

— The Spirit of the Times has very little confidence in Heenan's winning the great international fight. It says that he is deficient in "coolness, pertinacity, and freedom from the demoralizing effects of repeated blows." It is interesting to know that the loose characters of prize-fighters and gentlemen of the P. R. generally may be traced to the demoralizing effects of the blows they are obliged to suffer.

—The Philadelphia Bulletin is very much mistaken when it asserts that the New-York Press is about to "buy up all the Stock of the Camden and Amboy Railroad, and make it simply a newspaper Railroad, carrying no passengers nor freight, but used exclusively for the transportation of New-York papers." Our Trojan friends are so much more clever, (in the English sense,) that it would be a pity to permit a rival agency to be started in a village like Philadelphia. Besides, the Camden and Amboy road is but a snail alongside of the lightning train of the Hudson River Railroad. The latter would run a car to Albany and back before the former could get as far as New-Brunswick.

The citizens of Nashville are in a peck of troubles. Some unknown incendiaries persist in setting fire to their stores and dwellings in the most heartless and undiscriminating manner, and there is not water enough in the town to put out a fire when it has started. The Mayor hastily summoned a meeting of the Council, and that body empowered him to offer a reward of $1,000 for the detection of the culprits. To judge by the fierceness of editorial diatribe, the temperament of the people of Nashville is nearly as combustible as their houses. The place must be exceedingly unpleasant in the Summer season.

—A veteran named Ezekiel Barnes, who died recently in Ohio, voted for sixty-nine years consecutively, and cherished one wife of his bosom for sixty-five years, and when he died, at the age of 90, his wife survived him. By reason of strength, Mr. Barnes lived, not only to see his great-grandchildren, but without ever knowing a sick day. A Cleveland paper, noticing his death, remarks, with great originality, that the storms of life never broke upon Mr. Barnes, "save in gentle undulations." It is not exactly clear what the gentle undulations of "storms" are, but we suppose it is all right.

—A chess-player in this City writes to his brethren in St. Louis, (who are holding a Chess Congress,) that the progress of the game in New-York is checked—in fact, so to speak, checkmated, by cliques and jealousies. He says that honorable men who love the game are overawed by "a pack of meddling parasites, intent upon nothing but their own names, oysters and champagne," and indulges in some severe reflections, expressed with sufficient causticity. Here is a challenge for the New-York Chess Club, which body is clearly bound to purge itself of this contempt.

—The Bordentown Machine Company has recently completed a first-class sugar-cane mill for a gentleman of Cuba, which is now being attached to a twin 48-inch Ericsson caloric engine, manufactured by the Newark Machine Company, at their works at Newark. This is the largest caloric engine yet made of the new pattern, and is supposed to be powerful enough to do the work of the largest plantations. The twin 32-inch engine has been found in practice adequate to answer the purposes of the ordinary planters.

—A box was forwarded from Nashville, Tenn., by Adams' Express, to the care of one Levi Coffin, Cincinnati. On reaching Seymour, Ind., the box happened to be handled rather roughly, which started the lid, and out popped the woolly head of an African, blacker than an ace of spades, or a coal scuttle, his eyes shining with an excess of terror, like diamonds set in ebony. He was taken from Seymour to Louisville, and there lodged in jail, to await the requisition of his proprietor. It is not often that the underground railroad thus misses its connections.

— New-Orleans boasts of a beardless, because female Bluebeard. This interesting lady was married on the 8th instant to her eighth husband. She has married every year since 1852; each year one husband dies, but the widow loses no time in filling his place. The finger whereon she wears her wedding rings must bear some resemblance to a curtain rod. It is said she has nothing prepossessing in her personal appearance except a fine set of teeth. Judging from the number of husbands she has devoured, her teeth ought to be good.

—A Bangor paper claims Hon. John F. Potter as a Maine boy. Very early in life he breathed the invigorating Eastern air of Augusta, and when he attained to man's estate, married a Maine lady, his own cousin, and then emigrated to Wisconsin, where he has improved in estate and bodily presence, not to mention "pluck," in the freedom of Western life. Mr. Potter's father was John Potter, and his mother was born Caroline Fox, a daughter of John Fox, Sen., of Bangor.

—The Southern millenium has dawned. Messrs. John Fraser & Co., shippers, of Charleston, make public announcement that a regular line of packets, and "fast-sailing" packets they are, will begin immediately to make stated trips between that port and Liverpool. The Susan Owens will sail from Liverpool June 5, and the Norton from Charleston Aug. 10. Money not so much an object as the establishment of direct trade; and freight carried for next to nothing. New-York merchants will please take notice.

—There is living in Massachusetts a stout old gentleman, one Capt. Solomon Hart, who is described as weighing nearly 200 pounds, a strict temperance man and a true Republican, who is the patriarchial head of a tribe of Harts, big and little, numbering 12 children, 49 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren, and one youngster of the fifth generation,—making a highly reputable total of 137 persons. The patriarch Solomon is still vigorous, and his age is 94.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

The First of the Anniversaries.

THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR SEAMEN IN THE CITY AND PORT OF NEW-YORK—ANNIVERSARY AND ANNUAL REPORT.

At St. George's Church, Stuyvestant-square, last evening, was held the sixteenth anniversary of the Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Society for Seamen in the City and Port of New-York. The spacious edifice was about half filled, and Rev. Dr. VINTON presided over the services. After the reading of the appropriate evening lessons and prayer, the sixteenth annual report was read. From this document it appeared that the object of the Society is to extend all possible moral and religious aid to sailors in this port, accompanied by judicious and discriminating charity in some cases. The aim is to keep a guardian care over poor JACK TAR, and to help him to be able to enjoy the fruits of his hard toil. Two floating chapels have been maintained, one on the North River and one on the East, and stated service has been held in the vicinity of Coenties-slip, public worship being maintained throughout the year at all these points. At Coenties-slip the worship is mainly in the open air, although in stormy weather a neighboring shipping office is opened, where also the books and tracts for distribution are stored, and distributed to such as desire them.

The missionaries have held meetings on different evenings of the week at the Beekman-street Church, much assisted by Rev. J. H. H. BROWN. The sailors' hospitals in New-York, Brooklyn and Staten Island, have been visited, and the religious and moral welfare of the patients looked after. The congregations at the meetings average 100 each. There have been, during the year, 47 baptisms; 19 communicants added; 5,000 books distributed, including 400 Bibles, 1,100 Testaments, and 950 Prayer Books. There were 180,000 pages of tracts given out—various societies having contributed all these documents. At the "Home," or sailors' boarding-house, 869 seamen have been boarded and lodged and otherwise cared for, and 31 have received charitable assistance; $9,955 in savings of the sailors has been intrusted to the keeper for deposit in savings banks, &c. The Home about pays expenses. The disbursements of the year have been $8,265 88, being $1,786 87 more than the receipts. The sum was made up from previous assets, but greater liberality is needed this year, as there is no reserve fund. The missionaries have been J. M. WHAITE, R. T. WALKER, and D. S. HUNTINGTON. The first named gentleman is about to leave for the West, and his place will be filled by Rev. B. S. ROBERTS. The Managers vouch for the efficacy of the work performed, and the fidelity with which the funds have been disbursed.

"Behold also the ships, which, though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth."

A liberal collection was taken up for the benefit of the Society.

Department of Public Charities.

NEW COMMISSIONERS OF THE ALMSHOUSE.

The Comptroller, on Saturday, made and announced the appointees of the four Almshouse Commissioners who are to relieve the Board of Ten Governors of their arduous and responsible duties. The gentlemen to whom is entrusted the entire control of the charitable institutions belonging to the City, and supported by the tax-payers, are Messrs. MOSES H. GRINNELL, (just elected a Commissioner of the Central Park vice CHARLES H. ELLIOTT,) SIMEON DRAPER, ISAAC BELL, Jr., and JAMES B. NICHOLSON, all well-known citizens, and fairly representing the great parties—Messrs. DRAPER and GRINNELL being as well-known Republicans as Messrs. BELL and NICHOLSON are Democrats.

The oaths of office were administered by Judge BONNEY, of the Supreme Court, and the new appointees at once proceeded to organize, which was accomplished by electing Mr. DRAPER President, and Mr. BELL Permanent Secretary.

The official documents, books, &c., belonging to the defunct Board of "Ten Governors," were surrendered with quiet grace and dignity, and, presto, the change took place. The new Board proceeded at once—accompanied by the Comptroller—to take possession of their new charges, and paid an official visit to each of the institutions under their control.

Mr. BELL, one of the appointees, is now a Supervisor, and the possible necessity of his resignation of this position may arise; but as it is not a salaried office, and as the sentiment of the Board is unanimously adverse to his resignation, it will not be accepted if tendered.

The law under which the new Board is organized invests them with extraordinary and almost unlimited powers, and which are best defined by the following section of the act under which they hold office:

"The Department is empowered to appoint and remove such subordinate officers as it shall see fit, for the purpose of distributing its said powers of government, or as hereinafter provided. The Board may define the respective duties and authority of subordinates, and fix their respective designations of office, and fix their compensation. And until otherwise provided for by Commissioners, the wardens, chaplains, physicians, clerks and subordinates who may be in office, shall remain in office."

The new Commissioners are appointed for five years, at an annual salary of $3,000 each; and, three months before the expiration of their terms of office, the Comptroller is directed to appoint their successors, for a further term of six years. Of the members appointed it is unnecessary to say a word, as they are all well and favorably known and honored in the community; but it is not unworthy of remark that no one of the recipients of the Comptroller's favor is believed to be specially devoted to the interests of Mr. WOOD.

OBSERVANCE OF THE SUNDAY LAWS.—Inspector CARPENTER issued a special order on Saturday afternoon, directing the police captains to notify all drinking-saloon keepers and proprietors of theatrical entertainments, that hereafter, in accordance with the New Police law, they must refrain from doing business on the Sabbath. As a general thing, the result was yesterday apparent in closed doors throughout the City, although it was not impossible, at any time of the day, for the bibulously-disposed to procure what they desired by going to the side-entrances, while in several instances contumaciously-inclined liquor-dealers paid no attention to the notification, and, with open doors, asserted their determination to test the validity of the law. The police, however, were not very zealous in making arrests, as they desired to give the offenders ample time to realize that they were amenable to a heavy penalty for their conduct, but next Sabbath they will act without leniency. RAPHAEL WEIL was caught selling liquor at No. 242 Division-street by Officer THORN, of the Thirteenth Ward, and Justice BRENNAN required him to find bail in $300 to answer. Hoym's Theatre in the Bowery was closed, with a large label on the door, informing passers-by that religious services were in progress inside, but none except members would be admitted. Officer KNIGHT, of the Tenth Precinct, went in, however, and found lager flowing freely for thirty sinners, and, as a variation to the exercises, one FREDERICK KERKER proclaimed from a desk that he would dispose of tickets in a lottery for five cents each. The officer carried the tickets and their vendor before Justice BRENNAN, who held the latter for trial on a charge of gambling. In reply to the questions of Mr. CHAPIN, the telegraphic operator at Police Headquarters, the following answers were returned late last evening from the several Precincts, with reference to the arrests for non-observance of the Sunday law: First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth, no arrests; Eighteenth, no arrests, and not a store open; Twenty-first, not any, all stores closed; Thirteenth, FREDERICK POPE, JOHN STERLING and RAPHAEL WIEL. The Seventh, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Twelfth Wards were not heard from.

HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS—EXCAVATION OF THE SLIPS.—The work of dredging out the slips along the East and North Rivers, which has so long been needed for the relief of shipping, has fairly commenced, and it is understood that the City Government intend to do as much as practicable of this necessary work during the coming season. In the North River the old pioneer of the mud-machines, Capt. HART, with Capt. ORR, is engaged in cleaning out the slips near the foot of Jay and North Moore streets. The old-fashioned dredge is used here, which is worked with elevators and buckets. On the East River MORRIS & CUMMINGS are at work with their improved machine, and its performances attract a crowd of spectators who appear greatly interested and pleased with its almost automatic movements. This machine has been several days employed in dredging out Fulton Market slip, a place where all the fishermen congregate, and which, by the great accumulation of filth, garbage and mud running into it from the streets and sewers, has been rendered wholly unfit for the uses to which it has been devoted—the fish being soon killed in its putrid waters, and then scattered over the City to create disease among the inhabitants. The machine is worked by an immense bucket or dipper attached to the end of two long, upright poles, the bucket opening in the middle as it descends, and closing by the action of two chains attached to a steam-engine of 50 horse power. At each dip it scoops up from three to five yards of mud, occupying about one minute in each operation. A large-sized scow, which holds 45 yards, or 100 tons of mud, is loaded by this dredge in from 10 to 15 minutes, according to the nature of the digging. Two steam-tugs are kept constantly busy in towing the scows over upon the west flats, where the mud is deposited, by an ingenious device which lets the whole cargo out at once, through the bottom of the lighter. This slip is to be deepened to 12 feet at low water. If necessary, they can dig with this machine to a depth of 30, or even 35 feet—enough water to float the heaviest ship-of-war, or even the Great Eastern.

ANOTHER AERIAL TRIP OF THE GANYMEDE—ASCENSION OF A NEW AERONAUT.—Agreeably to announcement, and notwithstanding the afternoon was cold and cloudy, Mr. AUGUSTUS M. CONNER, a pupil of Prof. WISE in the aerostatic art, made his first ascension on Saturday afternoon from Palace Garden in the balloon Ganymede. There was a larger audience present than on the previous ascension by Mr. WISE, a large number being friends of Mr. CONNER, and others, who wished to see how a "new hand at the bellows" would act. The little damage which the balloon and its appendages received on Thursday, was repaired, and Mr. CONNER took the precaution, in addition to the usual supply of ballast and warm clothing, to lay in a liberal store of bread and cheese, not knowing, as he said, "what effect the atmosphere above might have upon appetite and digestion." Prof. WISE, who superintended the preparations, saw everything in readiness, and at 5 o'clock, P. M., Mr. CONNER having taken his place in the basket, the word was given to "let go." Cheers greeted the amateur as he rose in his airy vehicle into the upper regions, while he waved his flag in return. Finding his ascent rather slower than he wished, a quantity of ballast was discharged, and in a few moments he shot up into the clouds and was soon lost to view, going rapidly towards the northwest. What direction the balloon may have taken on striking the upper currents of atmosphere it is difficult to determine, but it is probable that he was borne towards the southwest, the lower current prevailing from the northeast. It is understood that this species of recreation is to be provided at Palace Garden regularly during the Summer.

LAUNCH OF A NEW STEAMSHIP.—The new steamship Bienville, built by Messrs. LAWRENCE & FAULK for LIVINGSTON, CROCHERON & Co.'s New-Orleans line, was launched from the shipyard at Williamsburgh on Saturday. There was a numerous gathering to witness the launch, which took place shortly after 10 o'clock A. M., when, at the order of the master-builder, the shoremen knocked away, and the ship glided from her ways in the most graceful manner. A company of about 100 persons, a portion of whom were ladies, were on board. Before her progress could be arrested she went nearly across the East River. By the aid of two steam tugs she was then towed to the Morgan Iron Works, where her engines are already nearly in readiness to go on board. The keel of this vessel was laid on the 1st of January, and it is expected she will be ready on the 1st of August. As usual, the builders expect she will be the fastest steamer afloat. However this may be, her lines are such as to indicate that she will not easily be beaten. Her dimensions are as follows: Length, 245 feet; breadth of beam 37, feet; depth of hold 28 feet. She has three decks, running fore and aft, with accommodations for 160 passengers. She is iron strapped, with diagonal iron four feet apart, the heads of each being fastened to a bar six inches wide by ¾ inch thick, which runs entirely around the top frame, being also bolted at each intersection through the timbers. Her cylinder is 65 inches in diameter, and 11 feet stroke. ROWLAND & Co. are the ship-owners. After the launch a collation was served in the mold loft at the yard, and friendly sentiments exchanged between the builders and the proprietors of the line.

MASS MEETING OF THE GERMAN LAGER-BIER SALOON KEEPERS.—On Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, a large number of the proprietors of the lager establishments, of German "nationality," held a meeting at the Volks' Garden, in the Bowery, to make arrangements for their war against the Sunday laws. Mr. HAMAN, the proprietor of the New-Yorker Stadt Theatre, was chosen Chairman. Mr. LINDENMULLER then arose, and with a few brief remarks stated the object of their gathering, and also stated what had been done at a meeting held at his own house on Friday afternoon. He then proposed, in order to raise a fund for the employment of counsel, to assist their cause and test the constitutionality of the law, to tax every member of the Association in proportion to the quantity of lager-bier sold by him; and also to tax the musicians, masters, and barkeepers in their employ, in proportion to their salaries. The motion was laid on the table, to be taken up again at a meeting to come off within a few days. It was then resolved unanimously that they keep their establishments open, the same as on former Sundays.

NEW WATER LOAN.—The bids for the loan of $228,000 for the Croton Department, were opened on Saturday, and awarded at an average premium of two and a half per cent., the interest being only six per cent. This certainly speaks well for the credit of the City, mis-governed as it is, but the bidders had, doubtless, informed themselves that the "Sinking Fund" was beyond the possible reach of the City Fathers, and that it will always remain a sacred trust. The new "County Bond" authorized by the last Legislature, to the extent of about three millions of dollars, will be issued in a few days, and will, of course, be rapidly taken by capitalists, who find trouble now in putting their money out at five per cent., and especially in view of the fact that these Bonds are exempt from taxation, which, at the rate of $1 79 from $100, is an item worth saving.

REPREHENSIBLE CONDUCT OF A PHYSICIAN.—On Saturday evening, HENRY EVANS, residing in the tenement-house No. 31 Essex-street, died of small-pox—a disease under which he had been suffering for two weeks. Dr. LEVERIDGE, who attended the unfortunate man, failed to report the case to Dr. SAYRES, the Resident Physician, by whom the patient would have been transferred to the Small-pox Hospital at Blackwell's Island. Some four hundred people live in the range of tenement-houses in which the man died, many of whom have probably been exposed to the infection, and much indignation is felt at the conduct of Dr. LEVERIDGE in the matter. Yesterday morning, by direction of Dr. SAYRES, the apartment in which the death occurred was thoroughly fumigated, and the bedding and other articles liable to retain infection were destroyed.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A BROADWAY MERCHANT.—Mr. CORNELIUS G. KOLFF, a member of the firm of KOLFF & PERSUHN, agents of the West India Company, No. 32 Broadway, has been absent from his place of business for several days past, causing considerable anxiety among his friends. Mr. KOLFF is a German by birth, and recently married the daughter of his predecessor in business, a wealthy merchant of this City. His partner, Mr. PERSUHN, is now absent in Europe. The residence of Mr. KOLFF is in Fourteenth-street, but he had recently taken a house on Staten Island for the Summer, and it is said that he went thither on Wednesday morning to make arrangements for fitting it up, since which time his friends have not been able to trace his whereabouts.

THE WRECK OF THE JACOB A. WESTERVELT.—The wreck of this vessel, which was nearly destroyed by fire a few days ago, has been hauled up to the Atlantic dock, where she is now discharging her cargo, a large portion of which is uninjured except by water. It is thought that the vessel may be restored to a seaworthy condition, at an expense of $45,000 or $50,000. Capt. WILLIAMS, who was on shore at the time of the fire, is the same officer who commanded the ship Andrew Foster, which was lost by collision in the Irish Channel some three years since. The former commander of the Westervelt, Capt. THOMAS AUSTIN, died on the 19th inst., and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery yesterday.

COMPLIMENTARY TO THE MANHATTAN FIRE COMPANY.—The valuable services rendered by the Manhattan Fire Company at the Fire in Fulton-street on the 20th of January last, were made the occasion of a complimentary recognition on Saturday last, by Messrs. WALKER & SONS, book-binders, whose property they were instrumental in saving. An elegantly bound Bible, valued at $250, was presented to the Company, on behalf of the firm, by Mr. WALKER, Sr., who accompanied the gift with a fitting speech, which was appropriately responded to by Mr. ISAAC FERGUSON, on behalf of the Company. Following the presentation the Company partook of a collation provided by the Messrs. WALKER for the occasion.

CHARITY CONCERT.—A Concert will be given on Tuesday evening next, at the City Assembly Rooms, in behalf of the House of Mercy at Bloomingdale, an institution lately organized as a home for friendless and degraded girls. There is a debt yet remaining for the purchase of the site now occupied by the House, and the proceeds of the concert will be devoted to its liquidation. As some of the very best musical talent in the City has been engaged for the entertainment, we do not doubt that it will be a highly attractive concert.

FOR EUROPE.—The British screw-steamer Edinburgh, Capt. KENNEDY, left this port at noon on Saturday for Queenstown and Liverpool, with $101,143 in specie, and 201 passengers. Among them is Rev. D. H. MACURDY, formerly Rector of Grace Church, Jersey City, and Rev. J. CASSADY.

THE BROADWAY SQUAD.—On Saturday the twenty-five men composing the Broadway Squad were detached from the Twenty-sixth or City Hall Precinct, and placed under the command of Sergeant McCAFFREY, late of the Sixteenth Precinct. The force will muster each morning at Police Head-quarters.

WEEKLY REPORT OF THE NEW-YORK HOSPITAL—Remaining on April 13, 242; admitted to April 21 32; discharged, cured or relieved, 38; died, 8; remaining at date, 235. Males, 192; females, 43.

Police Reports.

A MIDNIGHT BRAWL—DEATH OF ONE OF THE PARTICIPANTS—ARREST ON SUSPICION.

Soon after 12 o'clock on Saturday night a fatal stabbing affray occurred in Orchard-street, near Canal, in which Thomas Greenan, a brass founder residing at No. 124 East Broadway, was the victim. Deceased, in company with his friend John Crinnion, had been spending the evening at the house of his brother, and while returning home together through Orchard-street, they were met by three Germans, one of whom jostled violently against Greenan, who thinking the act intentional, made use of abusive language. One of the Germans retorted and the altercation resulted in a fight, which ended in Greenan's obtaining the advantage of his antagonist. As soon, however, as he permitted the German to rise from the sidewalk, where he had thrown him, the latter stabbed him twice in the back, the wound penetrating both lungs, and producing almost instant death. The noise of the altercation attracted the attention of Officer Wright, of the Tenth Ward, who, learning the particulars of the case from Crinnion, obtained the assistance of other Policemen and started in pursuit of the Germans. Charles Robert, a young German baker, residing at No 34 Hester-street, was soon afterwards arrested, while endeavoring to obtain access to a saloon in the neighborhood, and after looking at him, Crinnion positively asserted that he was one of the three Germans who had occasioned the disturbance, and he also believed him to be the man who had used the knife. The prisoner denied any knowledge of the affair, and said that he had been alone all the evening. He was, nevertheless, detained, as were Crinnion and a man named Samuel Calhoun, a witness of the affray, to await the result of an investigation which will be made by Coroner JACKMAN. The body was removed to the Tenth Ward Station-house, where Drs. Beach and Gallagher made a post mortem examination. They found two incised wounds between the shoulders and near the spinal column, which had probably been inflicted with a dirk knife, penetrating the lungs and sufficient to cause death in a very short time. A jury was summoned, but the Coroner decided to adjourn the examination of witnesses until to-day, when further evidence will probably be obtained. Greenan is said to have been a man of correct habits. He was 25 years of age, unmarried, and worked in the foundry of James Gregory, in [illegible]-street, near Houston.

CAPTURE OF ALLEGED BURGLARS.

Philip McGuire, a notorious character, was caught at 3 o'clock on Saturday morning by Officer Bigland, of the Eleventh Ward, in the store of C. H. Spolthans, corner of Avenue C and Seventh street, which, with a confederate, he was engaged in robbing. The policeman pounced upon the rogues and attempted to secure both, but one escaped by leaping through a rear window. McGuire was committed for trial by Justice BRENNAN.... Segars, valued at $125, were stolen early on Friday morning from Conrad's public house, foot of Ninetieth-street, East River. Subsequently Officer Pabor, of the Twelfth Precinct, observed two men in a Second-avenue car at One Hundred and Eighteenth-street, with several boxes of cigars in their possession, and suspecting them to be thieves, he followed them until he met another policeman. While relating his suspicions to his colleague the men ran off, leaving the cigars in the street. They were at once pursued, and one, giving the name of Julius Schnell, was caught and committed for trial by Justice BROWNELL.

MORE ALLEGED POLICY DEALERS.

On a warrant issued by Justice OSBORN, at the complaint of one John Buckman, an unlucky investor in lottery policies, Mr. John Lewenthal, keeper of an office in Thirtieth-street, near Broadway, the alleged vendor of the tickets, and Messrs. John H. Bache and David Bignall, said to be his "backers," were apprehended, and required to find bail for their appearance to-morrow to answer at the Court of General Sessions.

MAKING MERRY WITH ANOTHER'S MONEY.

Joaquin Riva, a Cuban, was apprehended on Saturday by Detective Slowey on a charge of having stolen $300 in eagle pieces on Friday night from George Bastiano, his countryman and room-mate. The money was not recovered, for as soon as Riva obtained it he invited his friends to join him in a night of dissipation, and thus speedily disposed of it. He is held for examination.

Fires.

BURNING OF THE STEAMBOAT HUNCHBACK, OF THE STATEN ISLAND FERRY COMPANY.

At 5 o'clock yesterday (Sunday) afternoon, flames were seen issuing from the promenade deck of the steamboat Hunchback, while lying in the basin between Quarantine and Stapleton landings. So rapidly did the fire spread that in 15 minutes the whole upper deck was enveloped in flames. After considerable effort the fire above decks was subdued, and the vessel scuttled, which probably saved her hull. Her upper works were entirely destroyed.

During the burning of the Hunchback a man named BENJAMIN BROWN, who was engaged on the upper deck, fell head foremost and struck the main deck, receiving severe and, it was feared, fatal injuries, his neck, it was supposed, being broken by the fall. He was conveyed to the house of the nearest physician. A fireman named RICHARDSON, belonging to the Truck Company, received an accidental blow with a hook from one of the other men engaged in tearing away the cabin work, and was frightfully cut on the head. He was conveyed to the physician's house for treatment.

The steamboat Huguenot, belonging to the Port Richmond route, first discovered the fire, and made all haste to reach the burning boat. She got a stream of water playing from the steam-pump before the firemen arrived.

IN A CIGAR AND LIQUOR STORE.

Yesterday morning, at 6 o'clock, a fire occurred in the liquor and cigar store of Mr. PERLEY, at the corner of Eighteenth-street and Broadway. Before it could be extinguished, the stock was damaged to the extent of about $7,000. It was insured for $16,000 in the American and Home Insurance Cos.

IN LIME-SHEDS.

The platform and lime-sheds at the corner of Eleventh-avenue and Thirtieth-street, owned by THOMAS CUMMINGS, were burnt down at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, involving a loss of $100; insured in the People's Company.

AT STATEN ISLAND.

At one o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in a small building owned and occupied by Mr. WENER as a segar store, and situated at the head of the dock at the Quarantine landing. It was destroyed, together with the ferry-house, store-house, sheds, fences, gates and a portion of the dock, which belonged to the Ferry Company. Was probably the work of an incendiary.

Coroners' Inquests.

RECOGNITION OF A BODY.

Mr. LYONS, residing at No. 119 West Forty-fifth-street, called at the New-York Hospital on Saturday morning and identified the body of the young man who died in that Institution on Thursday evening, as was at first believed in an epileptic fit, but whose death a post-mortem examination developed had been occasioned by a fractured skull, as that of his son WM. H. LYONS. Coroner JACKMAN was unable to procure evidence as to how or by whom the injury was inflicted, and the matter will probably remain involved in mystery. Deceased was 27 years of age, unmarried, and had an excellent reputation for sobriety and industry. For several years he had been employed as a driver for ADAMS' Express Company, in whose service he was when he met his death.

ANOTHER DEATH IN JEFFERSON MARKET PRISON.

An unknown man, found on the sidewalk corner of Thirty-fourth-street and Eighth-avenue on Friday night, and committed for supposed intoxication, turned out subsequently to have been suffering from a fracture of the skull, which caused his death the same night. A post-mortem examination showed that he was addicted to intemperance, and it is supposed that his injury was caused by a fall while in a state of intoxication. Deceased appeared to be a laboring man, about 50 years of age.

At 8½ o'clock on Saturday evening an unknown man was found by Officer SPENCER lying dead on the sidewalk in Vesey-street, opposite St. Paul's Church. On being conveyed to the Hospital, it was found that deceased had received an injury on the head, from which the blood was flowing freely. He was apparently about 40 years of age. An inquest will be held to-day by Coroner JACKMAN.

Our City Gridirons.
A LEGISLATIVE LAY.
BY JULIA CAREY SHRINHARDT.
Oh, the rail cars have run off the track with a dash,
The boiler has bursted in bits,
The "Gridirons" have gone to incurable smash,
And the drivers seem losing their wits;
The veto's astride of our hopes for a ride,
Without walking a dozen of blocks,
And no wonder the railroads have sickened and died
Beneath the grim Governor's knocks.

But yet we have railroads on Avenue Three,
And Six, and on Eight, Nine and Two,
And the chief of our errands down townward must be
To change our worn clothing to new.

WESTERN EXPRESS COMPANY.
TO SHIPPERS OF FREIGHT TO AND FROM THE WEST.

Enlarged and the best facilities ever presented for the consideration of Merchants, Shippers, Travelers and Emigrators.

THE WESTERN TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, having united their late facilities with those of the NEW-YORK CENTRAL and MICHIGAN CENTRAL RAILROADS, numbering 31 PROPELLERS AND STEAMERS of the first INSURABLE CLASS, will run DAILY LINES, during the ensuing season, from Buffalo to the ports of Chicago, Milwaukee, Racine, and other ports on Lake Michigan; Detroit, Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland, and other ports on Lake Erie, which, in connection with the UNEQUALED CANAL FACILITIES of this Company, comprising 150 BOATS OF THE LARGEST CLASS, eight of which will leave Buffalo and New-York daily, enables them to offer merchants and shippers superior inducements for safety, dispatch and reliability.

THE WESTERN EXPRESS (owned and operated by this Company) will be run over the NEW-YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD to Buffalo, and connect with the various Railroads and above Lines of Propellers on the Lakes, for such freight as may require a more speedy transit than by Canal.

For RATES of FREIGHT, CONTRACTS and BILLS of LADING, by CANAL or RAIL, apply to the Agents or Consignees, at the offices of the Company:

FACTS.
In this paper we present to the public unimpeachable testimony establishing the facts that RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, REGULATING PILLS, and RENOVATING RESOLVENT, are not only positive curatives of the sick afflicted with disease but that they have in many cases proved to be infallible, and have restored the dying patient to robust health after all other means of medication failed.

FIRST WITNESS.
WILEY M. SQUIRES, Harrisonburgh, La., testifies "That Radway's Medicines have made some astonishing cures in my neighborhood. My son Martin was long afflicted with a severe chronic complaint. One box of RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS, and two bottles of RENOVATING RESOLVENT, made a permanent cure after the best physicians in my county failed."

TUMOR IN THE WOMB.
This witness further testifies that Mrs. Mary All Britton had a tumor in the womb; her hips and lower extremities were perishing; she was attended by three of the best physicians in the State, and given up as incurable. She was permanently cured by RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT, READY RELIEF, and REGULATING PILLS.

A NEW INDIAN STORY,
ENTITLED
THE CRUSADE OF THE FOREST; OR
THE LAST DAYS OF KATHARINE MONTOUR.
BY THE POPULAR AUTHOR
OF
"THE BRIDE OF THE OLD FRONTIER,"
WILL BE COMMENCED IN THE NEW-YORK LEDGER
FOR THIS WEEK,
READY TO-DAY AT 12 O'CLOCK.

This new tale of Revolutionary and Forest Life is filled with the wildest adventures of the daring spirits of that stormy and eventful period.

Tim Murphy, the popular hero of "The Bride of the Old Frontier," is introduced into it. The reader cannot fail to be entertained and amused with the perusal of his exploits. Tim is acknowledged, on all hands, to be the best scout and Indian fighter ever before met with, either in the forest or in fiction. Unlike the heroes of other Indian tales, Tim Murphy is a real historic character.

CHILTON ON THE CROTON.
The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by McKENZIE & O'HARA, is the kind of porous Filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone which constitutes the filtering medium, to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and only requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.
Manufactured and sold by McKENZIE & O'HARA, No. 364 4th-st., corner of Mercer.

COUNTRY RESIDENCES.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.—THE SUBscriber about to remove to Illinois offers for sale or exchange for New-York City or Chicago City property, or good farming lands in the State of Illinois in part, his residence, situated in the village of Kinderhook, Columbia county, containing five acres of land, with a new modern brick cottage dwelling, built and finished in the best manner, by days' work, under the immediate supervision of the owner for his own occupancy. Has bathing rooms, range, hot and cold water, &c. Upon the premises are all the necessary out-buildings, excellent kitchen garden, large orchard of apples and pears, and well stocked with every variety of choice fruit; all in perfect order, and adapted to a gentleman's residence, being one of the most desirable and complete residences ever offered. Omnibuses connect at Stuyvesant with every train upon the Hudson River Railroad, and at Kinderhook, upon the Harlem Railroad. For farther particulars, apply to T. R. JACKSON, Esq., Architect, No. 229 Broadway, New-York; E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine-st., N. Y., or to the subscriber upon the premises. P. S. HOES.

COUNTRY-SEAT FOR SALE AT RIVERDALE, ON THE HUDSON RIVER, 14 MILES FROM THE CITY HALL.—A fine new brick house, 65x40, (exclusive of piazza,) and 5 acres of land, commanding a splendid view of the Hudson from Staten Island to Peekskill. Pure spring water is carried over the house, supplying bath-room, chambers, kitchen and laundry. The house, (which is in the immediate neighborhood of the residences of Messrs. Babcock, Spalding, Atherton, Ferris, and others,) contains twelve commodious sleeping-rooms, two parlors, library, dining-room and butler's pantry; and, in the basement, kitchen, laundry, billiard-room, store-room, furnace-room, &c., and is furnished with all the modern improvements. The house is entirely new, and, with the grounds, is in perfect order, never having been occupied. It is situated within five minutes' walk of the Hudson River Railroad Dépôt, and can be reached in 45 minutes from the 31st-st. station several times each day. For particulars, inquire of MORTON, GRINNELL & CO., No. 55 Park-place.

TWO COUNTRY-SEATS FOR SALE OR RENT—Built in the best style of Tudor Gothic, with double brick walls, marble facings, covered with slate; having ample stables, coach-houses, &c., from the designs of A. J. Davis, Esq., architect of this City. They are situated on handsome lawns, on Weniah Hills, opposite the residence of the subscriber, about five minutes' walk from the New-Rochelle dépôt, and about forty-five minutes' ride from the City. They contain eighteen rooms, with spacious porches and verandahs, commanding an extensive view of the Long Island Sound. They are located in a salubrious neighborhood, and free from every kind of nuisance. Good schools and churches within walking distance. They will be sold or rented to acceptable families on moderate and accommodating terms, as they were built to establish a select neighborhood, rather than for profit. Apply to RICHARD LATHERS, Nos. 33 and 35 Pine-st.

GLEN COVE, L. I.—FOR SALE IN PLOTS, TO suit purchasers, or entire, a valuable tract of about 300 acres, comprising a portion of the Dosoris estate, within a few minutes' drive from the steamboat landing. It is beautifully diversified with forest and meadow-land, hill and valley. A stream of never-failing water runs through the entire estate and there are also numerous springs on different parts of it. The lawns extend to the water's edge, and the whole tract, from its gently-sloping situation, commands an unrivaled view of the Sound, and the picturesque islands and bays in the vicinity. The dwelling house, barns, &c., are in perfect order. For bathing, boating and fishing the place cannot be excelled. It has access to the City several times a day. It is perfectly healthy, and, for a person either of business or leisure, or for parties seeking an investment, it presents advantages rarely to be met with so near the City. Apply to WM. M. WEEKS, Glen Cove Pavilion; or to READ, DREXEL & CO., No. 40 Wall-st.

FARMS.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE—SITUATED at Fondas Bush, Fulton County, N. Y., 8 miles from Amsterdam, on the New-York Central Railroad, and 9 miles from Johnstown, the County seat. The farm contains 105 acres, all fine tillable land, with the exception of 7 acres of woodland. It is well watered, and a fine, large stream of water runs through it; it is free of stones, good soil, easily tilled, and in a high state of cultivation. The barns, out-houses and fences are in good repair. The land adjoins the village, and there are three two-story dwelling-houses and a store on the farm, all pleasantly situated in the village. A magnificent grove of evergreens surrounds the farm-house. A good cash business is done in the store, and the post-office is kept there. The village contains a large brick flouring mill, large tannery and two stores. One mile east is a village of 1,500 inhabitants. There are 8 cows, 3 horses and all the farming utensils, which will be sold with the above or separately. The roads are excellent; it is a healthy country, and decidedly the most desirable farm in that vicinity. Whether as a Summer residence or for agricultural purposes, such a farm is rarely offered. For full particulars, inquire at Nos. 92 and 94 Cliff st.

FARMS FOR SALE.—TWO BEAUTIFUL farms in the village of Madison, Morris County, N. J.; the 40-acre farm is within 10 minutes' walk from the railroad dépôt; good house and out buildings, fine garden, large lawn, handsomely shaded all round the house; abounds in very choice fruit of every kind, and very fine location; land in a high state of cultivation, and worthy the attention of any gentleman who is desirous of a beautiful country residence. The 20 acres is also a very desirable little place, 1½ miles from the village. Inquire of S. D. HUNTING, Waverley House, near the dépôt.

FOR SALE—A PRODUCTIVE FARM OF 46 acres, less than three miles from Elizabeth, N. J., under good cultivation, with comfortable farm-house and good out-buildings; will be sold low and on easy terms. For particulars apply to S. BROMBERG, No. 80 Beaver-st.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—AN EXCELlent fruit and dairy farm, of 157 acres, 30 miles from New-York, via New-Haven Railroad; spacious mansion and outbuildings, with view of Sound; fish-pond, choice fruit, &c. S. EDDY & CO., No. 61 Liberty-st.

Also, TUESDAY and THURSDAY EVENINGS, 7 to 9. As those suffering with nervous debility, urinary deposits, gonorrhœa, (whites,) involuntary loss of semen—nightly, with the urine, or at stool, impotency, affections of the bladder and kidneys, strictures, gleet, gonorrhœa, syphilis, primary and constitutional, &c., may not be aware of the fact, he takes this method to inform them that his connection with the European hospitals enables him to adopt the latest and most radical treatment, never failing to cure the oldest and most severe cases permanently in the shortest possible time. The offices are divided into 8 rooms, so that patients do not meet. Those living at a distance can be cured at home through the Express and Post-office, as the medicines are convenient, pleasant, and do not cause sickness.

R. CORBETT, M. D., CAN BE CONSULTED on all diseases of a private character. 28 years exclusively devoted to the treatment of syphilitic diseases, enables him to make permanent cures, no matter of how long standing. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness, impotency, and all kindred affections, &c., treated effectually. The victims of misplaced confidence, or those who may have been unfortunate in the selection of a physician, are particularly invited to call. N. B.—Dr. C. is a member of the New-York University, (Medical College,) and College of Surgeons, London. See either of his diplomas in his office, No. 19 Duane-st. Private exit for patients.

DR. WATSON TREATS ALL FORMS OF a certain class of disease with a success which has won for him the confidence of the public. The remedies are safe, and cause no interruption from business. Dr. WATSON'S work—"The Cause and Cure"—has been pronounced by the reviewers the best popular compendium on all diseases of a private nature, including spermatorrhœa and debility, the results of early abuse, excess and other causes. "Should be read by all persons previous to marriage."—Medical Gazette. Fine colored plates. Price $1. To be had of CHARLES MILLER, No. 436 Broadway, New-York, and of the author, at his private residence, No. 459 Broome-st., second block west of Broadway, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. Office address, No. 634 Broadway, New-York.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first. The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures, in new cases, in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb, unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FIRST-CLASS STEAM FORGE FOR SALE.—Will be sold at public sale, at 2 P. M., on the 28th day of May, 1860, at the public house of Wm. L. De Borbon, in the City of Reading, the property known as the Reading Steam Forge, in the said city. Said forge is substantially built, and completely equipped with all the modern improvements, including a 7-ton Nasymth steam hammer and three Birk steam hammers, each with heating-furnaces and boilers attached. A tire-bending machine and oven; three puddling-furnaces, five blacksmiths' forges, two thirty-ton cranes, one largest class boring mill, slotting machine, turning-lathe, and sixty horse engine. Main building 300x100 feet, with sheet-iron roof; a carpenter shop and brick office, with fire-proof, &c., on the premises, which contain over 2½ acres. Said Forge is most conveniently located for business, adjoining the Reading Railroad, and so connected therewith that locomotives can take away and deliver cars of iron, coal and other freight without cost for hauling. Shutes run outside the building, by which coal, scrap iron, &c., can be dumped close to each furnace, without extra cost for hauling or labor. This Forge is capable of executing the heaviest work, having forged and finished the main shafts of the Adriatic, (believed to be the largest ever made,) besides complete sets of forgings for numerous steamships for Government and other. The city of Reading presents peculiar advantages for the successful operation of such a forge. It is within 58 miles of Philadelphia, connected therewith by the Reading Railroad, and the Schuylkill (180 ton) Canal; 128 miles by rail direct from New-York; 138 from Baltimore; 54 from Harrisburgh and 54 from the Schuylkill coal region, whence the best anthracite coal can be placed at the furnace doors for about $2 25 per ton. Reading is situated in one of the finest agricultural districts of Pennsylvania, has a population of 25,000, and is noted for its general health and the purity of its water. As Berks County contains more furnaces than any other in the United States, iron of every description can be procured by the forge at the lowest prices. Title clear of all incumbrance. Possession given immediately, and terms made easy, to suit purchasers. The Forge is in complete order, and is furnished with every necessary tool and appurtenance to commence work immediately on taking possession. It is a property well worth the attention of those engaged in the above business. For any further information, apply to

ELEGANT COUNTRY RESIDENCE FOR SALE.

The [illegible] country-seat at Clifton, near the Narrows, Staten Island, which since 1841 has been the family residence of Wm. H. Aspinwall, Esq., about 9 miles from New-York, and offering to any gentleman who desires to visit the City daily a desirable home, which for health, beauty and convenience, has no superior on the seaboard.

The place contains about 60 acres of land, the highest in the neighborhood, affording ten or twelve fine building lots, and comprising a great variety of woods, hill and dale, about one-half on the southern slope fronting the ocean, and the other half facing the Upper Bay and City. The sea and inland views are unsurpassed—overlooking well-wooded eminences, as well as every vessel which enters or leaves the port. The land between this property and the Narrows is owned by the United States Government, and will probably always remain open.

The dwelling house is over 100 feet front and varies in depth from 30 to 90 feet, built in part with hollow brick walls, and part with wood filled in with brick. Grapery, in bearing for six years. Green house, ice-house and stables, with nine stalls and ample carriage room; one of the entrances is a carriage drive of over half a mile, well graveled. A description of this place is to be found in Downing's work on "Landscape Gardening," page 38.

The property will be sold as a whole or in parcels, as designated on the lithographic maps to be seen at the Merchants' Exchange, or at the office of the auctioneers, No. 23 Nassau-st.—the same being also staked out on the grounds. If not disposed of by private sale prior to SATURDAY, April 28, will on that day be offered at auction, at 12 o'clock at the Merchants' Exchange. For terms, apply to the auctioneers. The house will be open for inspection any day between Monday, 9th inst., and the day of sale, on orders to be obtained of the auctioneers.

The sale of the above has been postponed from the 19th to the 28th inst. in consequence of the unpleasant weather, when the sale will positively take place.

THE CALIFORNIA MENAGERIE.
A CARD.

The undersigned, believing the wild animals just arrived from California to be objects of the greatest interest and curiosity to the public, have made a joint engagement with the proprietor, Mr. J. C. Adams, "the Old Hunter of '49," for their exhibition on MONDAY week, at the corner of 13th-st. and 4th-av.

These wonders of the Californian mountains consist chiefly of Grizzly Bears, of enormous dimensions, captured and trained by Mr. Adams, during a hunting expedition of over four years. Besides these, the collection comprises a general assortment of other wild animals belonging exclusively to that country, and which we have the fullest confidence in asserting will be witnessed with the greatest satisfaction by all who take an interest in the wonders of animated nature.

The exhibition will be given in a colossal tent, in the course of which the hardy mountaineer will give an account of his method of catching the animals, and display his astonishing skill and courage in performing his savage pets in a variety of playful feats and harmless antics.

A list of the animals, with a full description of the exhibition, will be published in a few days.

[illegible] SLAVERY.

[illegible] by Rev. Dr. Cheever.

The announcement in the newspapers of Dr. [illegible] intention to lecture on "Northern Strikes [illegible] Southern Slavery," and "God's Bill for Unpaid [illegible]," attracted quite a large audience last evening to the Church of the Puritans. The edifice was [illegible] high, if not completely filled. The Doctor's [illegible] was taken from the fourth chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Colossians. His discourse mainly turned on the first verse, in which the obligation is imposed on masters to give unto their servants that which is just and equal; knowing that they also have a master in Heaven. He represented this chapter as containing the most terrible denunciations of the sin of Slavery, on the ground that Slavery itself was the most terrible form of extortion. In arguing the point, he showed that in the primitive days of the Church the [illegible] of labor, without compensation, was not [illegible] but condemned. A Christian man was forbidden to lay the burden of Slavery on any other man. The relation of slaveholding was reprobated in the New Testament as sinful in itself. The crime of manstealing had been set down along with that of murder, as being subject to the penalty of death, and this was taught under the authority of the Gospel itself. No man could be a Christian and a slaveholder. This applied as well to those who oppressed the hireling laborer in the North to help to maintain slavery in the South—to those who trod down the bleeding hearts of the workers, boys and girls, men and women, so truly described in HOOD's "Song of the Shirt,"—those who, with their incomes of fifty, sixty, or seventy thousand dollars a year, paid away more in a single election to sustain the slave Democracy than they expended in a whole year's clerk hire,—those who drove their laborer's as remorselessly as a factory does its spindles, compelling them, to his (Dr. CHEEVER's) personal knowledge, to labor into the hours of the Sabbath must or so to overtax their powers that the Sabbath must be spent either in sleep or in the reaction of sensual indulgence. If due regard had been had for the dignity and rights of laboring men, as set forth in God's word, there would never have been such a crime as that of Slavery. The reducing of men to Slavery worked like a repressed elemental fire; nay worse, it was a macerating of them into masses in which they could be used as beasts of burden by ambitious despots who, as the instruments of Satan, degraded labor, and deprived it of its rights to knowledge, happiness, and liberty. It was the duty of Christians to obey God and break down the walls of caste between capital and labor. They should obey God by taking the laborer by the hand, by regarding him as a brother, and by doing so they would pluck from out the world one-half of Satan's means for driving men into perdition. After God's declaration of the parent crime itself, nothing could be more astonishing than the recent declaration of a Christian minister to one of the congregations of this City, and in a Christian assemblage, that the buying and selling of men might be just. God's declaration was this, that either for the buying or selling of a man the offender shall be put unto death. Considered as a matter of natural right, Slavery was a sin, because it was wrong to withhold from a man that which is his due. If his work were worth a dollar a day, and any man withheld a part of that dollar from him, he stole from him just to that amount. Slavery was an act of still greater meanness, for instead of stealing merely a man's wages, it stole himself. "The laborer is worthy of his hire." And again, the Scripture says: "The laborer is worthy of his reward." The man who refused to do this was as bad as KING JOHN, who, to extort money from a Jew, pulled a tooth every day from out the Hebrew's head until he complied with his demands. The extortioner was mentioned among other great sinners as one who could not enter into the kingdom of Heaven. The Christian church would never keep company with the extortioner; it would never tolerate him while he committed such things as the institution of Slavery involved. According to the construction of our national law, by our national tribunal it was impossible to steal anything from the slave, because though as a laborer we owed him his wages, yet as a slave and chattel we, as owning himself, owed him nothing. There could be no possibility of stealing anything from a slave, because he possesses nothing; no possibility of committing adultery against him, because his marriage has no legal force; no hindrance to taking his wife and children from him, because he has no marital rights. Every slaveholder sustained this system with all its horrible concomitants—its atheism, its debauchery, its brutality; and every church which favored slaveholding upheld it with all these moral enormities. The reverend doctor continued to urge that the Church was everywhere bound to use its utmost endeavors to procure the abolition of Slavery, and alluded incidentally to the sympathy for the abolition cause which had recently been expressed by Dr. CAUDLISH and others, at a public meeting in Edinburgh. He quoted freely from the speech of Mr. O'CONNOR, at the Union meeting in the Academy of Music, and characterizes that gentleman's theory that the natural condition of the colored race in this country is one of pupilage, as a doctrine not only arrogant but impious. He alluded also to the system of Slavery as it affects the commercial economy of the country, and declared that if Slavery were abolished, and the negro paid fair wages as a freeman, the wealth of both the North and South would be doubled. If, he said, such corruption of the heart as that exhibited in the speech to which he referred were not thrown off, it would grow on us; it would become hardened in us; the land would become a region of horror, as if the lizards and snakes of the Pre-Adamite world were crawling over us; the sin would enter into our bones; all the meanness, the fraudulence and the degradations—all the brutality, the cruelty, the low wickedness, would enter into our character, and we should become a contempt among the nations. The evil influence would bore into us like an augur of solidified sulphuric acid. Did the passage of human enactments in favor of Slavery render it any less a violation of God's law? Did the compound hydraulic ram of legal interpretation diminish the guilt by making it wholesale? Dare the Church of God deny it to be sin, or encourage its existence as a matter of political expediency? Its vested rights were vested devils, assuming the figures of angels.

Dr. CHEEVER proceeded to express, in very emphatic terms, his dissent from the proposed Abolition of Slavery by deporting the colored race, en masse, to Africa, and opposed the doctrine of confining Slavery to the States in which it exists, on the ground that, being a sin, it must be eradicated everywhere. He expressed the belief that total emancipation was inevitable, and claimed for the slave the right to wages for his work, in a region whose climate and productions forbid successful labor by any other race.

State Lands in the City of New-York.

AN ACT AUTHORIZING THEIR CONVEYANCE TO THE CITY.

The following is the act to "authorize the sale of certain lands belonging to the State, and to empower the Corporation of the City of New-York to purchase the same," passed by the Legislature at its recent session:

The people of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The State Engineer and Surveyor is hereby authorized and directed, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, to cause an actual survey to be made of all the space of ground and soil of the Hudson and East Rivers, which has already been in whole or in part reclaimed and filled in, either by natural accretion or otherwise, and which lies outside of and adjoining the grants made to the Corporation of the City of New-York under the Montgomery Charter, granted to said City on the 15th day of January, 1730, or by any other charter or grant to the said City from the State, and to make a return of such survey to the Commissioners of the Land Office. The expense of such survey shall be paid in the manner now provided by law, in regard to surveys made under the direction of said Commissioners.

SEC. 2. The Commissioners of the Land Office, upon such survey being made, are hereby authorized and empowered to grant, convey and release, to the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, all the interest of the State in and to the lands so surveyed, or any part thereof, and in and to any claim or right of action in favor of the people of the State, against the Corporation of said City, for the use and occupation thereof, upon such terms as the said Commissioners shall deem equitable in view of the expenses incurred by the Corporation of said City, its grantees or lessees, in reclaiming said lands and improving the same.

SEC. 3. Directs the issue of real estate bonds at six per cent. interest, to pay for the lands that may be thus purchased.

SEC. 4. Pledges the faith of the City for the redemption of these bonds.

SEC. 5. Directs the lands that may be thus acquired to be pledged to the sinking fund for the redemption of the City debt, and the income from them to be paid over to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund.

SEC. 6. Protects the rights of all persons holding leases from the Commissioners of the Land Office.

SEC. 8. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed or deemed in any manner to affect or impair the title of the State to any lands which may hereafter be formed or made around said City by alluvial deposits, or filling in beyond the limits of the City as fixed by the said Montgomery Charter, or to authorize the sale thereof otherwise than in pursuance of existing laws; but all such lands shall be deemed the property of the people of this State, and subject alone to their control and disposal.

SEC. 9. The provisions of article four, title five, chapter nine, part first, of the Revised Statutes, shall not apply to any sale, conveyance or purchase authorized by this act, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 10. This act shall take effect immediately.

Important Railroad Opening.

The following dispatch from Senator YULEE relates to the opening of a new railroad on Friday from Fernandina (a port in Florida, on the Atlantic,) to Cedar Keys, on the Gulf.

It is thought, that by this route large quantities of produce will be shipped from New-Orleans, Mobile, &c., to avoid the dangers of the Florida Keys. Fernandina has a good harbor.

FERNANDINA, Thursday, April 21.

Fernandina, a new seaport city in the South, presents herself through your Chamber for recognition in the commercial circles of the world.

D. L. YULEE.

REPLY.

NEW-YORK, Friday, April 21.

Hon. D. L. YULEE, Fernandina, Fla.

SIR: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your telegraph of the 20th, and shall promptly announce, through the daily papers, the opening of the new seaport of Fernandina.

P. PERIT,
President Chamber of Commerce.

MONDAY, April 23—A. M.

The Foreign Trade at this port the past week shows a liberal entry of Foreign Merchandise, though six hundred thousand dollars below that of the corresponding week last season; while the Export clearance of Domestic Produce is the heaviest of the season, and nearly fifty ℘ cent. over the same week last Spring. The Export of Specie is quite inconsiderable, compared with the movement in April, 1859. The total entry of Merchandise, including the Dry Goods table in our last paper, is $4,918,297, against $5,683,802 last year. The clearance of Produce, $2,160,217, against $1,460,057, and of Specie $241,503, against $1,495,089 same week last season. This week the Specie movement will probably be more active, from several causes which may render it desirable. The Exchange on London has been partially advanced, and the principal drawers on Paris intimate a higher rate on that point for the mail by the Persia, and should the advance be maintained, on a fair trade demand for Bills, a further supply of Bullion from California, due in the course of the week, will enable the Bankers to ship, though to no very decided profit, without reducing the Bank averages. The London market would just now feel the favorable influence of the resumption of even moderately active shipments of Bullion from this side, and the operation being entirely convenient to our own Banks in the Spring and Summer months, when the interior exchanges, as well as California, afford a liberal supply, its profit would return to us in the enhanced price of Cotton in the English market, which the recent rise in Discounts in London has somewhat checked. Our own Discount market is getting down to points of interest on Money which, with increasing Deposits, indirectly influence Bank lenders to run up their lines, with long-date paper, in order to make a fair average of profits. The terms current the past week on the Street were 5@5½ ℘ cent. for short-date paper, strictly first-class, and 5½@6 ℘ cent. for prime indorsed bills running to and through October next. On temporary Loan, most of the Stock Brokers are supplied at 5 ℘ cent., and with all the activity of speculation on the Exchange, the employment is not equal to the offering from lenders. Bills on London are 109 ℘ cent.; on Paris they are held for f.5.17½@f.5.16¼ for the next mail. The Sub-Treasury balance now stands $7,531,483, against $7,413,975 at the close of the previous week. The Bank average of Specie to be made up this afternoon is expected to show some decrease, owing to the shipment of Saturday week not counted in the previous return, and to some demand to settle balances with Boston and Canada.

According to the Custom-House returns of the Trade at this port for the nine months of the current fiscal year, which we made up and presented in tabular form some days since, the Import entries at New-York from July 1, 1859, to March 31, ultimo, exclusive of Specie, amounted to.........$178,499,000
Add three weeks in April.........$12,699,716

Total since July 1.........$191,198,716
Against same time last year.........165,019,690

Increase this fiscal year.........$26,179,026

The same tables make the Export clearances of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods, including Foreign articles reexported, from 1st July to 31st March, ultimo.........$57,298,000

Total to date.........41,912,593
Against same time last year.........26,206,193

Increase to date.........$15,706,400

The shipments of Cotton to Foreign States from the Southern ports, of the present season, to second week in April are:

2,957,000 bales, averaging $50.........$147,850,000
Against 2,161,000 last year, avera'g $53 75. 116,153,750

Increased Export to date this year.........$31,696,250
The total Export of Cotton the last year was 3,005,000 bales, of the value of.........$161,431,923

—giving an average value of about $53 75 to the bale, while we take $50 as the average of the present season, for the convenience of comparison. The early average run of prices for both years was much the same, but the immediate currency, say for Orleans Middling, is lower than at this time last season.

The week past was one of the most buoyant of the season on the Stock Exchange, the dealings on Thursday, Friday, and part of the day on Saturday being marked by an unusual degree of speculative excitement. The advance on the list above quoted, it will be noticed, was quite large and general, while in some of the Railway mortgages embraced in our table, and also in the common shares of the Harlem Company, the demand and rise were equally great. On Saturday forenoon a partial reaction seemed to be impending, after the sustained excitement and rapid advance of the week, and after the formal adjournment of the General Board in the afternoon this reaction was manifested by the increase of sellers, and their apparent eagerness to realize. The feeling was confined mainly to the Western shares and New-York Central, while the [illegible] and Railway mortgages, and also Panama [illegible], remain comparatively firm. The New-York and Erie second mortgages have risen to 68 for the fourths, and 59½ for the fifths, while the common bonds which pass into a preference 7 ℘ cent. stock under the new stock organization, are in demand at 40 ℘ cent. This price includes four overdue coupons, and the four coupons to fall due before the new scrip will become, by the tenure of the arrangement, a regular 7 ℘ cent. stock, in all 28 ℘ cent.; so that a bond bought for $400 at the Board will entitle the purchaser to $1,280 in preference stock. Should the purchase at the Board include a Bond from which one or more of the past due coupons have been cut off, the full value thereof, $35 or $70 as the case may be, is abated by the seller. The common shares of the Company have resumed something like their old activity in the speculations of the Stock Exchange, and the advance, mainly in consequence of recent large withdrawals of stock from the Street to send to London, has been more rapid than even the best friends of the property could have predicted a month or two ago. The sales of New-York Central, after the adjournment of the Legislature early in the week, were quite heavy at 80 ℘ cent., being a rise of 10 ℘ cent. from the lowest point to which the agitation of Pro Rata and Tolls and the eagerness of speculators for the Fall, to put out contracts and privileges thereon, had recently reduced the price. New buyers appear to have taken hold at 79½@80, and the price at one time on Thursday struck 80⅝ ℘ cent., the market being stimulated by the official report of the traffic of the Road for the first half of the fiscal year to the close of March, and rumors of a still larger scale of increase in April, as compared with last season. The Western Stocks have been taken hold of afresh, from something like the same cause, the demand extending to the Galena line, the Spring increase on which is, as yet, prospective. The largest activity is in Toledo Shares, where the improvement in traffic is already very decided, and in the guaranteed and common stock of the Michigan Southern, where something is expected from the change of administration at the annual election on Wednesday next. The general Share market on Saturday afternoon closed unsettled and comparatively weak.

A further improvement has taken place in the Federal State Stocks, as compared with the previous week, of ½@¾ ℘ cent. in United States Fives, 1 ℘ cent. in Tennessee Sixes, and 1¼ ℘ cent. in Missouris. The other State 6 ℘ cents are firm, and most descriptions scarce on the market. By private sale, a free demand continues for a good many of the Western Railway Mortgages and Western City Bonds, not usually dealt in at the Brokers' Board, and also for New-York City Stock, which, notwithstanding the recent legislative authorizations for Croton Water and Central Park purposes, sold on Saturday by the Comptroller at a higher average than some time past. His wants were only $228,900 on a Water 6 ℘ cent Stock of 1875, and for this the applications were $1,338,200, ranging from par to 103¼ ℘ cent. The awards average over 102½. Much satisfaction is expressed on the Street that the Governor withholds his approval from the hasty appropriation of a million of dollars authorized by the Legislature, to build a new City Hall on Madison-square.

The following are the proposals received by ROBERT T. HAWS, Comptroller, April 21, 1860, for $228,900 Water Stock of the City of New-York of the year 1854, redeemable in 1875, bearing interest at the rate of 6 ℘ cent. ℘ annum:

The City Debt of Maysville, Kentucky, has not yet been settled, although the legal rights of the Bondholders have been fully sustained, and a mandamus ordered by the highest Court of the State. The City is a small one; its real estate much depreciated, and the Road to which the subscription of Bonds were made was never completed, and the people now plead poverty in favor of a composition with the City creditors, at the rate of about 30 cents on the dollar. The money, at this rate, is pledged to be paid by a number of citizens out of their private means. The Maysville papers mostly urge its acceptance on the Bondholders, though we regret to see their appeal connected with the intimation that the ordinary legal remedy cannot be enforced in the present state of the popular repugnance to the justice of the claim.

The Miner's Journal of Saturday reports:

"The trade from all the regions shows an increase this week, notwithstanding the confusion caused in the trade by the reduction of the Pennsylvania Coal Company. The promptness on the part of the Reading Railroad and Schuylkill Navigation Companies, in allowing a drawback on the larger sizes of coal destined for the Eastern market, prevented any check in the trade, and it is now progressing as usual. The Delaware and Hudson Company have fixed their prices for coal 5 and 10 cents a ton above the prices published by the Pennsylvania Coal Company last week. The Scranton Company have fixed their prices 10 and 15 cents a ton above the prices of the Pennsylvania Coal Company. The Reading Railroad and Schuylkill Canal Companies allow a drawback of 15 cents a ton on lump, steamboat and broken coal, destined for the New-York and Eastern markets, to meet the reduction made on these sizes by the Pennsylvania Coal Company. It is also understood that the Reading Railroad and Schuylkill Canal will increase the rates of toll and transportation 15 cents a ton on the 15th of July, and a further increase of 15 cents per ton will take place in September or October, to correspond with the increased rates of the New-York Companies as the season progresses."

The Chicago Times reports of the Chicago and Mississippi (Chicago, Alton and St. Lous) line, now under the Receivership of Messrs. JAMES ROBB and CONGDON, as follows:

"The probable increase of earnings on this Road for the present month, as compared with the same period last year, will foot up about $20,000. From the following figures it will be seen that this amount approximates with the regularly recorded earnings of [illegible] Company. The increase of the first week was between $3,000 and $4,000, and the business is steadily advancing. The total earnings for the week, ending April 16, are from all sources, $18,808 26. Those of the corresponding week in 1859, were $13,360 25, making an increase for 1860 of $5,448 01. The rapidly improving condition of the road and its equipments, together with the promptness with which its trains are run, and its general good management is doubtless the cause of this encouraging state of things."

The Cleveland Herald notes a large improvement in the Railway travel from the West to and around the Southern shore of Lake Erie, and the fact stated is borne out by our own information from the movement over the New-York and Erie and New-York Central. The local traffic on the Erie line has also been much improved and popularized under the present administration of Receiver MARSH and Superintendent MINOT. The Elmira Press remarks of the latter:

"The Erie Road is rapidly regaining the popularity as a passenger route it enjoyed a few years since, and to which it is justly and eminently entitled. No other thoroughfare can compete with it for ease, safety and punctuality—the three important essentials in railroad journeying, and which, under the present liberal and judicious management of the Road, are again commanding a due appreciation from the traveling public. It was only through the perverse, exclusive and suicidal policy which characterized its control, before Mr. MINOT resumed the reigns of government, that the Erie receipts gradually but surely diminished until irretrievable bankruptcy stared the Directors and stockholders in the face, and competing lines were rejoicing in fat and increasing exhibits. Now, however, the prospect has changed; Erie receipts and the market value of Erie Stocks are in the ascendant, and will, doubtless, continue to exhibit an equally prosperous condition until the Road shall have attained a perfectly sound financial condition."

A difficulty has grown up between the Marietta and Cincinnati Road and the Baltimore and Ohio, which the Cincinnati papers insist should be speedily adjusted. It relates to the running connections at Parkersburg, on the Ohio River, and has led to the temporary withdrawal of the through business over the Marietta line. The Cincinnati Gazette remarks that the injustice is on the side of the Baltimore Company, in the exclusive partiality shown to the Ohio Central from Wheeling west.

In an article on the position and competition for Western business of the Grand Trunk line of Canada, we assumed that the cost of this enterprise and its various connections, to the English and Canadian proprietary, is the equivalent of sixty millions of dollars. It appears from the last report of the Company that the real sum involved is £13,783,908, or the equivalent of sixty-eight millions of dollars, of which £12,582,856 has been already funded, leaving £1,201,652 to be provided for. The further sum of £566,000 is required for additional equipment.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that

"Mr. ALLSOP, of New-York, recently appointed receiver for the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad by the United States Court, is in the City. A movement is to be made, we understand, to vacate the order."

We have recent information in regard to the project of the Atlantic and Great Western broad-gauge line from the extreme western division of the Erie Road in the direction of Cincinnati, which favors the opinion that the European interests which were brought into it last year, on the imposing representations of Mr. SAMUEL HALLET, of this State, and Gen. C. L. WARD, of Pennsylvania, through our Ministers in London and Paris, have earnestly resolved on its prosecution. A banking-house at Madrid, M. SALAMANCA, is now making large advances, and the English Engineer, Mr. KINNARD, who first came out last season, is now here to superintend the work. The ultimate result, in case the programme is fully carried out, is to be a broad-gauge connection direct from New-York to St. Louis, by the use of a third rail over several of the Ohio roads into Cincinnati, and thence by the Ohio and Mississippi (in which there is a large English interest now almost unproductive) to St. Louis. The same parties, we have reason to believe, are heavy buyers of New-York and Erie Shares, at present and recent low figures, with a view to a favorable influence in a management so intimately connected with their own views on the West. The first link in the projected work strikes out from the Erie line at Great Valley through Chautauque County, and was partly built six or seven years ago under a corporation styled the Erie and New-York City Company. This work is now transferred by purchase under an act of our Legislature to the Atlantic and Great Western Company. We may add that the Lake Shore (or Erie and Cleveland) interest, which would seem to be opposed to the broad gauge project, has recently intimated a concurrence in it, and will probably favor a branch connection, with their own line at Erie, from Jamestown; thus securing a check upon the monopoly of the Buffalo and State Line Company, whose managers attempted some months since, but now surrender, an extra tax or imposition of 50 cents a ton on Western freights from Erie to Dunkirk and Buffalo.

EARTHENWARE—Jobbers report the prevalence of an improved demand for desirable descriptions, which command higher prices. Supplies are diminishing.

FISH—Dry Cod have been in request at prices ranging from $3 25@$4 25 ℘ cwt. Mackerel, Salmon and Herring exhibit no remarkable changes.

FLOUR AND MEAL—A limited business has been transacted in State and Western Flour to-day. Low grades are not in favor with buyers and are much depressed. Desirable brands are wanted, but the firmness with which they are generally held tends to check operations. Sales have been made since our last of 6,600 bbls., including superfine State at $5 25@$5 30; ordinary to choice extra State at $5 35@$5 50, chiefly at $5 35@$5 40; inferior to choice superfine Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio at $5 25@$5 32½; extra Iowa and Wisconsin at $5 35@$6 25; extra Illinois, Indiana and Michigan at $5 40@$6 30; inferior extra Ohio at $5 80@$5 85; round-hoop extra Ohio, shipping brands, at $5 90@$6 10 ℘ bbl.

Southern Flour continues in lively request at rising prices. Sales to-day amount to 4,450 bbls., at $6 30@$6 50 for poor to good superfine Alexandria, Baltimore, &c., and $6 55@$7 75 for fancy to choice extra brands, ℘ bbl. Canadian is in fair demand, including very inferior to very choice extra, chiefly at $5 60@$7 25 ℘ bbl.; 1,600 bbls. were sold within the range. Rye Flour is inquired for at $3 45@$4 25 for fine and superfine, ℘ bbl. Corn Meal is selling, in lots, at $3 60@$3 70 for Jersey; $4@$4 05 for Brandywine, ℘ bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat has been moderately inquired for to-day, at essentially unaltered quotations. The principal receivers do not appear to be very eager to sell, and are decidedly reluctant to make any material reductions in prices. We have heard of sales of 27,500 bushels, including good white Canada at $1 60; do. do. Western, at $1 62½; red do., Winter, at $1 47; good Milwaukee Club, at $1 28; with Chicago Spring and red Southern on private terms. Corn has been in request at steady rates. Sales have been reported of 22,500 bushels, at 74c.@75c. for mixed Western; an unascertained price for unsound New-Orleans; 76c.@77c. for Yellow Jersey and Southern, and 76c.@80c. for White Jersey and Southern, ℘ bushel. Rye is scarce and wanted; it is quoted at 86c.@87c. ℘ bush. Barley is quiet at old rates. Miscellaneous.

The pilot-boat Nettle, No. 20, makes the following report respecting the bark Belle, before reported in collision and sunk: Sunday, 15th inst., at 3 P. M., fell in with the wreck of bark Belle, of Boston, dismasted and water-logged. Attempted to tow her, but, wind being light, made no impression. Lay by her all night, and on Monday, having a strong breeze from E. S. E., towed on her until 8 P. M., when the line parted. Tuesday, thick fog all day. On Wednesday, at sunset, fell in with her again, and the pilot boat J. L. Jones. Both boats towed on her all night, but at daylight found the bark sinking by the head. At noon nothing of her was above water but the stern and rudder. She lays immediately in the track of vessels bound to and from the eastward, being 70 miles E. half S from the Hook, in 26 fathoms water. Picked up a flag with the vessel's name on it.

BERMUDA, APRIL 16, 1860.—The steamer Plantagenet, Capt. Middleton, from Jamaica via St. Domingo, bound to Liverpool, with an assorted cargo and 30 first-class passengers, arrived March 10, has on board a family of savages from Dominica and two of the daughters of President Geffrard from St. Domingo, (titled Princesses Elizabeth and Rebecca.) After having obtained a full supply of coal from the dépôt of E. B. Todd, Esq., the Plantagenet left St. George on the 12th for her destination.

The mail steamer Delta, Capt. Hunter, from Halifax, with the English mails of the 24th ult., arrived 12th inst., and sailed same evening for St. Thomas. The Globe, of and from Philadelphia, bound to Buenos Ayres, put into St. George on the 13th, leaking badly. The agents are Messrs. S. Higgs & Hyland.

The whale ship Europa, of New-Bedford, out 46 months, with 1,600 bbls. of oil, arrived at St. George on the 13th; she intended to return home.

The ship Hero, Capt. Smith, (before reported,) having been refitted, was waiting wind to proceed on her voyage to Liverpool. Capt. Smith had been found guilty of an assault, impressment of some colored persons, and fined £70 sterling.

The Br. brig Henrietta, Capt. Hodson, from New-York which port she left on the 6th, bound to Guadaloupe with an assorted cargo on board, and a deck load of 30 mules, was thrown on her beam ends in a gale from S. W. in the northern part of the Gulf Stream two days after she left port, and lost 25 of the mules, the whole of her water, and many other things. She was spoken on the 14th on the south side of Bermuda, intending to go into St. George for a supply of water.

A brigantine, supposed to be the Devonshire, Capt. Masters, bound to Bermuda, was seen on the evening of the 14th on the south side of that island. The bark Eliza Barrs, (Br.,) Capt. Cooper, was to leave Bermuda for New-York on the 21st inst.

H. M. steam troop-ship Perseverance, from Jamaica for England, with the head-quarters of the 41st Regiment, under command of Col Goodwin, arrived at Ireland Island, (Bermuda,) on the 13th, and having obtained a large supply of coal, sailed on the following day, at noon, for her destination. (By Capt. Doe, of Br. schr. Peerless.)

Capt. Boggs, of steamtug Huntress, makes the following report: 21st inst., at 9:20 A. M., 15 miles S. by E. of the Highlands, saw four large right whalers, who approached the tug within 400 yards.
